Local election results show Warren in and...

Brown Out

By JON BISHOP
Crier Correspondent

WILMINGTON—Wilmington voters came out in big numbers Tuesday in order to participate in the Presidential election. Polling locations were the Wildwood School, the Town Hall, and the Boutwell School. And while Wilmington, like Tewksbury, proved again to be an enclave of conservatism in this true blue state, local favorites expected to do well sank across the board, from Romney, to Senator Scott Brown, even to Richard Tisei for the Congress.

According to some voters, the main issue this election was the size and scope of government. Scott Munro, who was asked for his thoughts before voting at the town hall, said as much. He later said he voted for Gary Johnson.

Mike Foley, another town hall voter, said he was supporting Mitt Romney.

Barack Obama and Joe Biden, the incumbents, garnered 5,890 total votes—or, 47 percent. Mitt Romney and Paul Ryan, the Republican challengers for the presidency and vice presidency, earned 6,437 votes, or 51 percent. The Libertarian Party candidates, Gary Johnson and Jim Gray scored 120 votes, which gave them 0.0096 percent. Jill Stein and Cheri Honkala had 42, which put them at 0.00336 percent.

As we all know now, the President ultimately won re-election.

Scott Brown and Elizabeth Warren were engaged in a tight campaign. The election in Wilmington was not any different. He earned 7,682 votes, earning him 61 percent of the vote. Warren had 4,814, putting her at 38 percent. Brown lost his bid for re-election with 46 percent to Warren's 54

WHS reclassified as Level 1

Appeal on attendance successful

By JAYNE W. MILLER
News Editor

WILMINGTON - Following an appeal from Wilmington Public Schools the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education reclassified Wilmington High School from a Level 2 to a Level 1 on the Massachusetts' accountability and assistance system.

"I believed all along that the high school was a Level 1 school and am thrilled that the public now knows it!" exclaimed Superintendent Benton via email.

Wilmington Superintendent of Schools Joanne Benton filed a letter of appeal on September 21, 2012 following the MCAS results classifying the high school as a level 2 due to a 93 percent participation rate for high needs students on the 2012 Spring MCAS mathematics test.

The appeal contested the classification on the grounds that one student was unable to participate in testing due to unforeseen medical issues. The DESE sent a response to the district dated November 1 stating that by utilizing data provided by the district the participation rate for high needs students increased from 93 to 95 percent, meeting the threshold required for Level 1 classification.

The DESE now considers the appeal closed and will display the adjusted 2012 accountability data for WHS on the public website.

Veteran Earned Bronze Star for His Service

Fourth in a Veterans Day Series highlighting local vets

By SHERYL WALSH
Crier Correspondent

WILMINGTON - David Orndorff just returned from a reunion. Not the typical high school or family reunion, but just as important. He was in Tampa, Florida where he met with more than fifty other Vietnam War veterans. They were all assigned to the 11th Light Infantry Brigade which trained at Schofield Barracks in Hawaii and then deployed into Vietnam in December 1967.

The group began meeting ten years ago. The start date is interesting in light of the fact that US military involvement in Vietnam ended in 1973, and Saigon fell in 1975. The members of this group served in Vietnam over 40 years ago. They were all with the 11th Brigade for training in Hawaii and during the first year the unit was in Vietnam.

Orndorff sees about 15 to 20 members of his old company at the reunions. "We were all very close," he says. "We talk about Nam, and we talk about what we're doing today."

They were "the Third of the First of the 11th Brigade" as Orndorff describes the unit. This refers to the 3rd Battalion, 1st Infantry Regiment. "There were five companies in the First," he goes on to explain. "Four regular and one small recon company." Orndorff was an infantry rifleman.

WWII POW from Massachusetts not recognized as veteran for 43 years

BY LARZ F. NEILSON
Editor Emeritus

George W. Duffy spent three years as a prisoner of war in Japanese prison camps in Southeast Asia during World War II.

Duffy was third mate on the American Leader, owned by U.S. Lines.

Serving on a merchant ship was probably the most dangerous civilian job during the war, especially in the early part of the war. Before the war, there were about 50,000 U.S. sailors in the merchant marine. Six months after the war began, some 10,000 of them were dead.

Duffy grew up in Newburyport and graduated from the Mass. Nautical School in 1941. He was in the last class at that school to train on the USS Nantucket, a steel-hulled, square rigged sailing ship with auxiliary steam engine. Ten years earlier, Larz Neilson had been a cadet on that same ship.

After graduating, Duffy landed a position with U.S. Lines on the American Leader. On Dec. 3, 1941, that ship left Pearl Harbor for Manila. Four days later, the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, triggering World War II. Immediately thereafter, they attacked an airfield near Manila. The American Leader skedaddled out of the harbor.

Ten months later, on Sept. 9, 1942, the American Leader was sunk by the German warship Michel in the middle of the South Atlantic Ocean. Eleven crew members died in the sinking. The Germans picked up the surviving crew members, including Duffy, and held them as prisoners of war. The Americans were held in a small compartment on the ship for nearly four weeks.

The prisoners were held in a small compartment in the Michel where they found small slips of paper secreted, giving the names of ships and dates of sinking. Duffy added the name and date for the American Leader. Also on board the Michel were crewmen from two other ships.

On Oct. 7, the Germans then transferred the prisoners to a supply tanker, the Uckermark. On that ship, one of the crew gave them some newspapers and games. In a tabloid magazine, Berliner Illustrierte Zeitung was the picture of seven sailors desperately clinging to a life raft. Duffy tore out that page, folded it up and put it into his clothes. Had the Germans found that paper in his possession, Duffy could have been executed.

Duffy and his fellow sailors assumed they would be taken to Germany. However, the German ship received orders to go to the Indian Ocean, where the prisoners were turned over to the Japanese.

Duffy spent the next three years as a prisoner of war under horrible conditions in Java and Sumatra. He and fellow prisoners were put to work building a railroad, much like the men in the movie, "The Bridge over the River Kwai." He survived three bouts of malaria and saw many of his shipmates die.

As the war wound down, the prisoners knew that things were changing. The Japanese surrendered in August 15, 1945. But for the prisoners, there was no moment or announcement of their freedom. And for many, there was never to be any freedom. Another 220 men died after August 15, 42 in camps along the railway and 178 in camps around Pagan Baroe.

The Japanese simply went away, leaving the former prisoners to find their way out. The former prisoners spent many days just trying to get out. Lady Louis Montbatten and some senior British military officers landed, and Duffy met with her for about 15 minutes. She was surprised to find an American in the camp. "What are you doing here?" she asked.

"At the moment, Ma'am trying to get back to Boston" said Duffy. He proceeded to tell the story of the sinking of the American Leader. It would still be three more days before he was flown to Singapore. By the time he reached home, the war had been over for six weeks.

At the southern tip of Manhattan Island in Battery Park is a monument showing four sailors on a life raft. One man is kneeling, another standing, a third is lying over the edge, pulling a fourth out of the water. That sculpture was created by Marisol, from the image on the magazine page that Duffy had kept with him through his three-year ordeal, and then in his files for more than 40 years.

The photograph, taken by an unknown German u-boat sailor in World War II. The men on the raft were American sailors, civilians, who had been on a U.S. flagged tanker which the Germans had just sunk. The sub left the men on the raft, and they all perished.

Duffy wrote that he was literally haunted by the specter of those drifting men. He began a search for their identities. The men had been on the SS Muskogee. Duffy has come up with the probable identities of three of the men.

The kicker in this story is that the sailors in the Merchant Marine were not considered veterans until 1988. The Germans had considered them military. The Japanese also considered them military. But to the U.S. government, they were civilians. Capt. George W. Duffy finally received an honorable discharge from the Coast Guard in 1988. It was dated Oct. 2, 1945. He has also received several awards for service during the war.

Duffy has since written a book, "Ambushed Under the Southern Cross," telling the story of his life at sea and in the prison camps. It is available on Amazon, published through Xlibris.

Veterans Day

Recognizing Pvt. John Allan Rich

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Town Crier would like to pay special tribute to the memory of Private John Allan Rich, USMC. Born in 1946, Rich made the ultimate sacrifice when he died in Vietnam in 1966. He was with the 1st Marine Division fighting in the Quang Ngai Province. Last week's listing of Vietnam War casualties inadvertently missed him, because the Vietnam Memorial Wall roster does not include Wilmington as his hometown. We have learned that not only was he a Wilmington veteran, but he was the first town casualty of the Vietnam War. On 11

Nov beginning at 10:45, the town's Veterans Day ceremony will honor veterans like him and the countless others who served or are still serving their country and the principles of freedom and democracy.

Details of Veterans Day Observance

Residents will assemble at the 4th of July parking lot at 10:45 am and march across the street to the Veterans monument. Wilmington Police and Fire Honor Guards and the Wilmington High School Band will be in attendance along with an Honor Guard from the 344 MP Co, which is scheduled to deploy to Afghanistan in April, 2013.

It's Your Money FSA CHANGES COMING UP

Do you use a Flexible Spending Account at work? Millions of Americans are happy to participate so they can use pretax dollars for medical expenses and dependent care. Congress is considering several options to help these workers.

Some changes are in the works. There will be a $2,500 ceiling on contributions to FSA health plans starting in 2013. (No change is expected on dependent care; it will keep its $5,000 cap.) The 2 1/2-month grace period will still be in effect in those plans that allow it, and leftover monies from 2012 spent early in 2013 won't count against the $2,500 limit.

Another change expected to pass will end the use-it-or-lose-it rule regarding employee set-asides, though the money returned would be taxed as income. And plans may once again be used to reimburse for the cost of over-the-counter drugs.

A Call for Post-Election Civility

Tuesday morning election day dawned gorgeous, bright, and bitterly cold. Social media however, was warming up with many posts from voters imploring friends and followers alike to remember what happens when the election is all over and we all wake up Wednesday morning with the results of the day.

We have known for awhile that no matter who wins, half of America will be unhappy with the results. My question is what will the winning party do with that result? Will they exploit it or will they actually work to solve real problems facing this country?

This nation has just spent two years, in effect, in a partisan bickering nasty election. What will leaders elected Tuesday do, now, to bring the nation together? Will they even try or will they thumb their noses at those that didn't vote for them and pursue their own agendas?

The approval rating of Congress, all of Congress (not just the Republicans as Robert Gibbs would have us believe) is incredibly low. We have the sequester hanging like the sword of Damocles over our nation - ready to eviscerate military and Social Security, Medicare, and Medicaid budgets. We have a debt and spending problem in this nation. We have partisan, unyielding leadership, with all parties dug in. Little has changed. I, for one, am sick of it.

What the rest of the nation must remember is that we all go on living next door to each other, we all celebrate the achievements of our kids, we all worry about our aging parents, we all still watch the price of oil, and I think, we all wonder if we cannot be doing better.

As I write this Tuesday night I hope we don't see excessive celebrating in the end zone, from either party. I hope we don't see gloating. Past practice, however, diminishes the prospect, but I'm willing to keep an open mind.

If nothing else, the message of bipartisanship finally started gaining ground at the end of the race. Too bad it was only brought up in October, not in July, not in January. This country can continue to limp along, squabbling like spoiled-grade school siblings or we can all put on our grown-up pants, roll up our sleeves and start solving real problems. One party should not effectively (or obstreperously) state "my way or the highway" nor should another party refuse to negotiate at all because it controls part of Congress.

Further, we have to demand that our leaders start acting the part as well. Too often we've seen our leaders sink beneath themselves and their offices to score points. Where's the inspirational leadership? Where's the vision? Lost in Benghazi, rotting on the spoiled shores of NY and NJ following Sandy, stuck with Big Bird and bayonets and binders in the basement of this election?

With this election, we remain a house divided. It will be up to the people to demand that the leaders rise to the occasion and do the job we believe they can do, the job they are compelled to do. But in the end, honor your neighbor and your friend, whether you agree or not. Its time to get back to real life and get to work.

Keeping "Thanks" in Thanksgiving

A few weeks ago, I was able to see an exhibit at Endicott College on Hunger and Resilience. It was a great reminder on why things like food pantries are needed in every community. It is easy to make excuses as to why help shouldn't be offered: addiction, laziness, lack of education, etc. However, if more people looked at the "how" in trying to help someone instead of the "why" they should bother, I contend the world might just be a better place.

Ok, off the soapbox. This month brings us Thanksgiving and, in keeping with social media trends, I have been stating something I am thankful for every day and sharing them with my children. Just as people emphasize remembering the religious event on Christmas, I ask you all to take a moment or two this month to give thanks and count your blessings on a holiday where cooking too much and eating too much has become a highlight. (Back on the soapbox?)

Other ways to celebrate the spirit of this season are to donate to the local food pantry, deliver an apple pie to an elderly neighbor or relative and doing yard clean ups for people who may need some extra help. Given the recent events with Hurricane Sandy, you can also donate to the American Red Cross or to other local aid efforts. (You can drop donations off this Sunday, 11/11 at Villanova Hall, St. Thomas from 8 AM-1PM of any clothing, household goods or canned/dry food goods).

Finally, next week is Veterans Day. Military personnel and families make the ultimate sacrifice and many will spend the holidays apart. Now is a great time to make a donation to Local Heroes (www.mass-localheroes.org). I am thankful to live in such a wonderful community that is part of such a great country and, if you feel the same, it is a great time to show your appreciation for the men and women who protect us and our freedoms.

The Bride of Frankenstorm

by Scott Mullooney

My future daughter-in-law, Ashley, was granted a coveted appointment at the famous Kleinfeld's bridal salon in New York City, home of Say Yes To The Dress. My wife and I were invited to join the bridal party on their trip. Not too many brides-to-be bring their fathers-in-law with them while they shop for a wedding dress. She thought my presence would give her the edge she needed to be chosen to appear on the television show. Frankenstorm was looming on the horizon but we thought we could make it to New York and back before the severe weather arrived.

Two SUV's full of family and friends left Boston and headed for New York City on Saturday morning as Hurricane Sandy crept up the East Coast. Our traveling caravan had a small window of opportunity to sight-see on Saturday and attend the bridal salon appointment at Say Yes To The Dress on Sunday. The tight schedule didn't leave much time to escape the city before the hurricane hit.

The four hour drive to New York flew by (thanks to my son Joe's driving). Joe's spontaneous shortcuts to circumvent congested highways didn't save time, but we kept moving. We arrived at our Secaucus, New Jersey hotel on Saturday at 1 p.m. as Governor Christie declared a state of emergency. We weren't going to let a global superstorm prevent us from having a good time.

Our hotel was on a New Jersey Transit bus route that could get us into New York City in fifteen minutes. Our group of eleven travelers had no idea the bus we boarded wasn't a New Jersey Transit bus until we were well on our way into the city. The gypsy driver gladly took our money. Our fare included an incredibly scenic tour of lower Union City, New Jersey. The bus dropped us off somewhat near our destination at the New York Port Authority.

Although the eleven people in our group were unfamiliar with New York City, we managed quite well. We had no itinerary and no direction. We Googled® street locations on our cell phones and followed GPS walking routes as we waded through the crowds.

We enjoyed lunch at the famous Carnegie Deli (expensive but worth it). We walked through scenic Central Park. We walked past the Essex Hotel where I stayed with my parents in 1968 while attending the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. We toured the FAO Schwartz Toy Store. We headed down Fifth Avenue to visit Tiffany's, the Trump Tower and St. Patrick's Cathedral. We ended our walk in Times Square, where the crowd was as electric as the millions of blazing lights. We were lucky the weather stayed windy and warm.

Our group was exhausted by time we headed back to the Port Authority to find a legitimate bus to take us back to our hotel. My two sons decided to break away from the group and head for a late night jazz show on the upper west side at a nightclub called The Blue Note. (A once in a lifetime chance, I was told, so I relented and let them head into the night against my better judgment). Despite my worries, they found their way back to the hotel in New Jersey later that night.

On Sunday, we had a quick breakfast before heading to my future daughter-in-law's appointment at Kleinfeld's for her appearance on Say Yes To The Dress. The outside of the bridal shop was boarded up for the approaching storm, but inside it looked as beautiful as it does on television. We missed our opportunity to be filmed for broadcast because the storm prevented the camera crews from arriving, but it was still a memorable experience.

The amazing Diane (as seen on TV) was Ashley's dress consultant. I can't reveal too much about our experience inside Kleinfeld's bridal salon because my son, the groom, was not allowed to attend. After many tissues and tears, Ashley said yes to a dress, and she looked amazing. When her appointment ended, I glanced at my watch. The timing was perfect. My sons were parked out front waiting for us. They even picked up a New York pizza for us to eat while we high-tailed through Harlem and headed for the highway (another shortcut my son guaranteed would save time). Our journey back to Boston had begun.

Storm clouds filled the sky and the wind increased. New York's state of emergency was fully enforced. Bus and train service was suspended. I wondered where the thousands of tourists would go to weather the storm. I hoped they wouldn't be joining us on the road as we tried to exit the city. I stopped complaining about my son's lead foot. I could not wait to get back to Stoneham.

Sunday night I was home, warm and dry, waiting for Hurricane Sandy's onslaught. I was happy to be away from the New Jersey coast. I requested a vacation day from work on Monday so I could sit in front of my television and watch the fury of the storm from the comfort of my living room. I was not happy Monday morning when my son asked me for a ride to Natick where he purchased a car so he could get to work. He had to pick up the vehicle before the dealership closed due to the storm. A rainy, wind-swept Mass Pike was the last place I expected to be during the storm, but I chose to brave the elements to help my son in his hour of need. The things we do for love...

Regret

Regret is the ghost that haunts me
A wicked spirit forever following me into space
Through a murky labyrinth, with no real name
Though some I've met called it life

A sinister, somber spirit, he is!
Splay tearstained green eyes
Matted silver hair like black widow's web
Chalky, ivory hand like bone
That hooks my side 'til I yowl

I kick! I shake!
I howl! The stigma aches!
Still the wretched demon chases me through space

Perchance my pernicious phantom's not so bad
But a cavernous shell of my past, is he Conceivably he's not a tangible existence
-and I've manifested him myself, consequently for my lapse

I must be gallant, through this beast's torment
He will not steer my soul

More than 80 Shawsheen Tech students earn scholarships

BILLERICA - For the third straight year, more than 80 seniors at Shawsheen Valley Technical High School were honored with John and Abigail Adams Scholarships. "We applaud our senior scholars for their tremendous success in securing these scholarships," said Superintendent/Director Charles Lyons. "Twenty five percent of our seniors have acquired these scholarships. The incredible success of the seniors has saved hundreds of thousands of dollars in tuition to state universities. Well done by all."

The distinction awards non-need-based state-supported undergraduate tuition waivers to students who are awarded John and Abigail Adams Scholarship by the Department of Education. In other words, Shawsheen Tech seniors receiving these awards get full tuition to state universities!

Eligible students score in the Advanced category in either the Mathematics or the English language arts section of the Grade 10 MCAS test and score in the Proficient or Advanced category on the second subject (Mathematics or English language arts). These students also have a combined MCAS score on these assessments that ranks in the top 25 percent in their school district.

State revenues drop, signify slowdown

Oct. revenue collections total $1.401 B, a 3.3 percent drop (Boston, MA) - A disturbing report from the Department of Revenue announced on the eve of the Presidential Election indicates that Massachusetts economy is slowing down. Tax collections, including income taxes, income withholding, sales tax, and corporate/business taxes are all beneath projections for October.

Revenue Commissioner Amy Pitter announced Monday that preliminary revenue collections for October 2012 totaled $1.401 billion, down $48 million or 3.3 percent below what the state took in last October. Due to weak performance in most revenue categories and higher than expected income and corporate tax refunds, October collections were $162 million below the monthly benchmark based on the FY13 revenue estimate of $22.011 billion.

Tax collections for the first four months of the fiscal year total $6.482 billion, $33 million or 0.5 percent less than a year ago and are $256 million below the year-to-date benchmark.

"October is a relatively small month because no quarterly estimated payments are due for individuals or corporations and it is traditionally the largest corporate and business refund month of the year," Commissioner Pitter said, noting that Massachusetts, like many other states, is beginning to see a slowdown in the pace of recovery from the recession.

Income tax collections in October 2012 totaled $802 million, $29 million or 3.5 percent less than a year ago and were $94 million below benchmark. Income withholding was $24 million or 3.0 percent below a year ago and was $75 million below benchmark, with at least a third of the shortfall due to a timing related shift in withholding payments from October to September. Income cash refunds of $93 million were $22 million or 30.4 percent higher than a year ago and $20 million above benchmark.

Sales tax collections for October totaled $440 million, up $13 million or 3.0 percent from the same period a year ago and $20 million below benchmark.

Corporate/business tax collections of $8 million were $35 million lower than a year ago and were $47 million below benchmark. Most of the shortfall was due to the higher number of corporate and business refunds.

Letters to the editor

Local Heroes extends thanks

Dear Editor,

I would like to extend my deepest gratitude to all of the individuals, companies and organizations that have supported Local Heroes this past year. With the help of many, Local Heroes has celebrated another successful year of supporting our brave men and women serving overseas - as well as their families back home.

Local Heroes has also played an integral part in helping these young men and women reintegrate into civilian life.

On November 3, 2004, a handful of volunteers met at the Wilmington Knights of Columbus and packed a dozen care packages to send overseas. Since that first Wednesday night, Local Heroes volunteers have met every week, without fail, to pack and ship boxes - the number now totaling over 16,000. Annually, Local Heroes averages $40,000 in postage costs.

The past eight years have truly been a humbling experience for my family and myself. The outpouring of local support for our military has been inspiring.

This past year, Local Heroes was recognized by the New England Patriots charitable foundation and was awarded a $25,000 grant. Additionally, we have been invited to pack 100 care packages before the Patriots game against the Buffalo Bills on November 11, Veterans' Day.

I would like to thank all of the Wednesday night volunteers who donate to Local Heroes on a monthly basis - the knitting groups who donate hats, slippers and "cool ties." To the Military Friends Foundation and especially the Ahern Family Charitable Foundation, I send my deepest thanks as well. They have been staunch supports since our inception in 2004.

To the gentlemen who have taken the time every Thursday morning to bring the packages to the post office - Bob O'Leary and Bob Landrigan - I say thank you.

Finally, I must thank my wonderful family. To my children, Louie, Nick and Brittany - thank you for all of your support over the years. I love you all.

And to my loving wife Marion, your dedication and support has been the foundation Local Heroes has been built upon. This organization would cease to exist without your tireless effort. I love you.

To all of the men and women of our armed forces, past and present, we salute your service. It takes immeasurable courage to wear the uniform and protect our country and way of life. In times of war and peril, you stand guard. Thank you.

Jim Lyons thanks the voters

Dear Editor,

As this campaign approaches election day, I write to thank you, the voters and citizens. During my door-to-door campaign, I was warmly welcomed into the homes and neighborhoods of Andover, Tewksbury, Boxford, and North Andover throughout the last six months. I deeply appreciate your kind greetings and helpful comments while visiting your communities.

I have worked to campaign with the civility and decency that is worthy of you, the voter. I am proud that the Lyons campaign has focused squarely on the issues: increasing Local Aid, rolling back the 25% Sales Tax hike, ending rampant political patronage among Beacon Hill insiders, advocating openness and transparency in state government, stopping the waste of tax dollars in the EBT card scandal, ending bailouts of Lawrence City Hall, exposing hidden taxpayer subsidies for illegal aliens' health insurance premiums, promoting economic growth and job creation, standing up for working families, taxpayers, and small business owners.

These are some of the issues that we have been talking about in the neighborhoods of the 18th Essex District.

In the sweltering heat of the summer, when it is not always easy to walk door-to-door (nor is it always easy for neighbors to greet us cheerfully - but you did!), a friend started referring to our campaign as the High Road campaign. And that phrase caught on among our friends and supporters. The High Road represents our positive message that speaks to our values, the values of the Merrimack Valley.

I make you this promise. If you honor me with re-election to a second term as your Representative, I pledge to carry those values - the High Road values of our Merrimack Valley - to the legislature.

I am acutely aware that no one in elected office is owed anything by the voters. I have worked hard to serve you and this District during the past two years. I trust that I have earned your respect; I hope that I have also earned your support.

Thank you for your kind consideration. And thank you for the privilege of serving as your Representative.

Jim Lyons

Horribles offers heartfelt thanks

Dear Editor,

On Sunday, October 28, 2012 the Recreation Department sponsored the 45th Annual Horribles Parade. Hundreds of families took a break from preparations for Hurricane Sandy to attend this much anticipated event. While the weather prevented the children from marching down Church Street, the short walk down the hall of the High School led to the cafeteria where treats galore awaited all costumed children.

We estimate that approximately 450 children participated in this event. The success of an event of this size requires the support of many organizations within town. Special thanks to our sponsors: Century 21 Starwood, customers of CVS, Dunkin Donuts at 195 Main St., Dunkin Donuts at 321 Main St., Kiwanis Club, Lucci's Supermarket, Market Basket, Jean & Jim Miceli, The Learning Experience, Tewksbury-Wilmington Elks, Utz, Walgreen's, Wilmington Fourth of July Committee, Wilmington Patch, Wilmington Sons of Italy, Wilmington Fire Fighters Association, Wilmington Fire Department, Wilmington Police Association, Wilmington Police Department, and The Wonder Years Learning Center for their generous contributions.

Sincere thanks to the fifty volunteers, who gave up their Sunday afternoon to decorate the cafeteria, distribute candy and treats on behalf of our sponsors, and in general help participants enjoy this Halloween tradition.

I am grateful to everyone who helped to make this event an overwhelming success.

Sincerely yours,

Deborah Cipriani
Recreation Director

Sears Congratulates

Dear Editor,

I want to thank everyone who came out to vote. It is clear that the voters of Wilmington and Tewksbury want Jim Miceli to represent us on Beacon Hill.

As a constituent, I look forward to his continuing to do what he believes to be in the best interests of our two towns - as well as to the citizens of the Commonwealth at large.

Congratulations, Jim.

Let's Hear it!!

Your Two Cents...

Polling place changes confusing

It would have been helpful if the changes in polling locations were made public prior to voting day. I think it caused a bit of confusion and added to traffic congestion. We arrived at the place we've always gone to vote - the Senior Center, and waiting in line only to be told we had to go across Tewksbury to the Lowell Assembly of God to vote! There were long lines of traffic on that side of town. Cops were directing traffic.

After voting, we stood in line to check out and noticed that the machine which accepted the ballots got stuck twice, and a policeman had to come over to open it.

Another resident fed-up with Xpedx strikers

Dear Editor,

I'm not a lawyer. I'm not an Xpedx worker nor do I even know anyone associated with that company. What am I? I'm tired. Tired of watching the Teamsters scream obscenities and vulgarities at motorists entering the facility. Tired of having to roll up my window or reroute my travel plans to avoid this pathetic spectacle.

How many more weeks are the residents of Wilmington along with the people who have to work in this area of town going to be asked to witness this? As a taxpayer and a mother of a young child that drives by this protest daily, I am outraged to see eight police officers at any given time on site allowing this to happen.

If I went up to my neighbor and stood at his driveway and yelled obscenities and gave him the finger every time he pulled in and out of his driveway, would I not be charged with assault as defined by Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 265?

Section 43A. (a) Whoever willfully and maliciously engages in a knowing pattern of conduct or series of acts over a period of time directed at a specific person, which seriously alarms that person and would cause a reasonable person to suffer substantial emotional distress, shall be guilty of the crime of criminal harassment and shall be punished by imprisonment in a house of correction for not more than two and one-half years or by a fine of not more than $1,000, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

There are people being threatened at Xpedx every day for simply trying to go to work, and this is wrong. Call it harassment. Call it assault. Call it bullying. It's wrong. What message do we send to our children when we tell them this type of bullying harassment will not be tolerated in our schools yet it's fine to have it take place on our streets?

The Teamsters will say it's their right to strike. I absolutely agree that it is. I've stood in a picket line myself. But that does not give them the right to harass people as they have. If you consider that the workers of Xpedx have the right to go to their workplace without being threatened and Wilmington residents have the right to drive on our streets without having to witness such intimidation, then section 37 also applies here:

Section 37. No person, whether or not acting under color of law, shall by force or threat of force, willfully injure, intimidate or interfere with, or attempt to injure, intimidate or interfere with, or oppress or threaten any other person in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the constitution or laws of the commonwealth or by the constitution or laws of the United States. Any person convicted of violating this provision shall be fined not more than one thousand dollars or imprisoned not more than one year or both; and if bodily injury results, shall be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not more than ten years, or both.

Still not convinced these strikers are legally out of line and should be arrested when engaging in this behavior? What about the Commonwealth's laws pertaining to disturbing the peace and disorderly conduct? They are clear and available online.

I love this town, but I am ashamed of how we as a community have tolerated this daily intimidation and harassment. Enough is enough. The Teamsters feel they are standing up for their rights. When do we as a community stand up for ours?

Town Crier Trip Reports

The Grand Style of Yesteryear Christmas at the Newport Mansions

By PAIGE IMPINK
Special to the Crier

Get your family in the mood for the holidays by visiting the elegantly decorated Newport Mansions this season. Plan a visit during November or early December, a great time for reasonable weather and a chance to get in ahead of the full holiday crowds.

This day trip is just under two hours from our area. Leave early and pack a picnic. Only three mansions are open during the holiday season, so you needn't feel overwhelmed about cramming all of them in. The iconic Breakers, Elms and Marble House are decorated with full gilt and finery at this time of year. We chose to tour the Elms and the Breakers, though any combination is offered. A side note-joining the Preservation Society of Newport offers you the opportunity for behind the scenes tours and the chance to return at any point in the year to tour the other properties. Visit www.newportmansions.org for more information (including Santa visits) or to order tickets.

Upon arrival in Newport, the visitor center offers maps of the area and restrooms. A quick walk across the road offers the opportunity to tour the Newport Yacht Club. If you have great weather as we did, you'll spot phenomenal watercraft, yachts and racing boats, some reminiscent of the famed America's Cup races. Newport is a popular port for many racing and yachting vessels from around the world. You can stop at the marina office and grab some stickers for the kids, postcards, brochures and such, all with the Newport Yacht Club logo. The staff was friendly and answered our questions. Don't be surprised to hear accents from South Africa, Australia, and Bermuda.

After this detour we moved on to the Breakers, summer home of rail tycoon Cornelius Vanderbilt. Street parking was abundant, but the campus of Salve Regina is interwoven in the area, so do respect parking signs. We purchased our tickets in advance online, avoiding any lines. An audio tour is included in admission, and is highly recommended. There are two modes- one for adults and one for children. The kid version is narrated from the perspective of children that would have lived in the mansion, both Vanderbilt and those of the domestic help. This self-paced program was a fantastic enhancement to the tour, and even our youngest was able to manage the headset and walk the tour easily. The holiday decorations are of the grandest scale, with many fresh flower arrangements from the Garden Society of Newport adding a fragrant touch. Bring your camera!

Exterior of Marble House at Christmas

The Elms, summer home of coal magnate Edward Berwind, offered an equally exquisite tour, again with headsets and full holiday regalia. The grounds at the Elms are expansive, offering kids a chance to run and stretch through sunken gardens and open lawn, horse stables and tea houses. Parking is onsite at the Elms. After touring the mansions, be sure to plan for a stroll along the Cliff Walk. This gorgeous oceanfront walkway is right next to the sea, and winds along the backyards of some of the most magnificent homes in Newport. It is a 3.5 mile walk, but public access is available from many points, so you can do as much or as little as you like. The day of our visit, the weather was unseasonably warm, but throw jackets in the

in case the wind kicks up and makes it chilly. Currently the Cliff Walk had numerous sections destroyed by Hurricane Sandy. Please call in advance to determine which portions are open or keep your plans flexible.

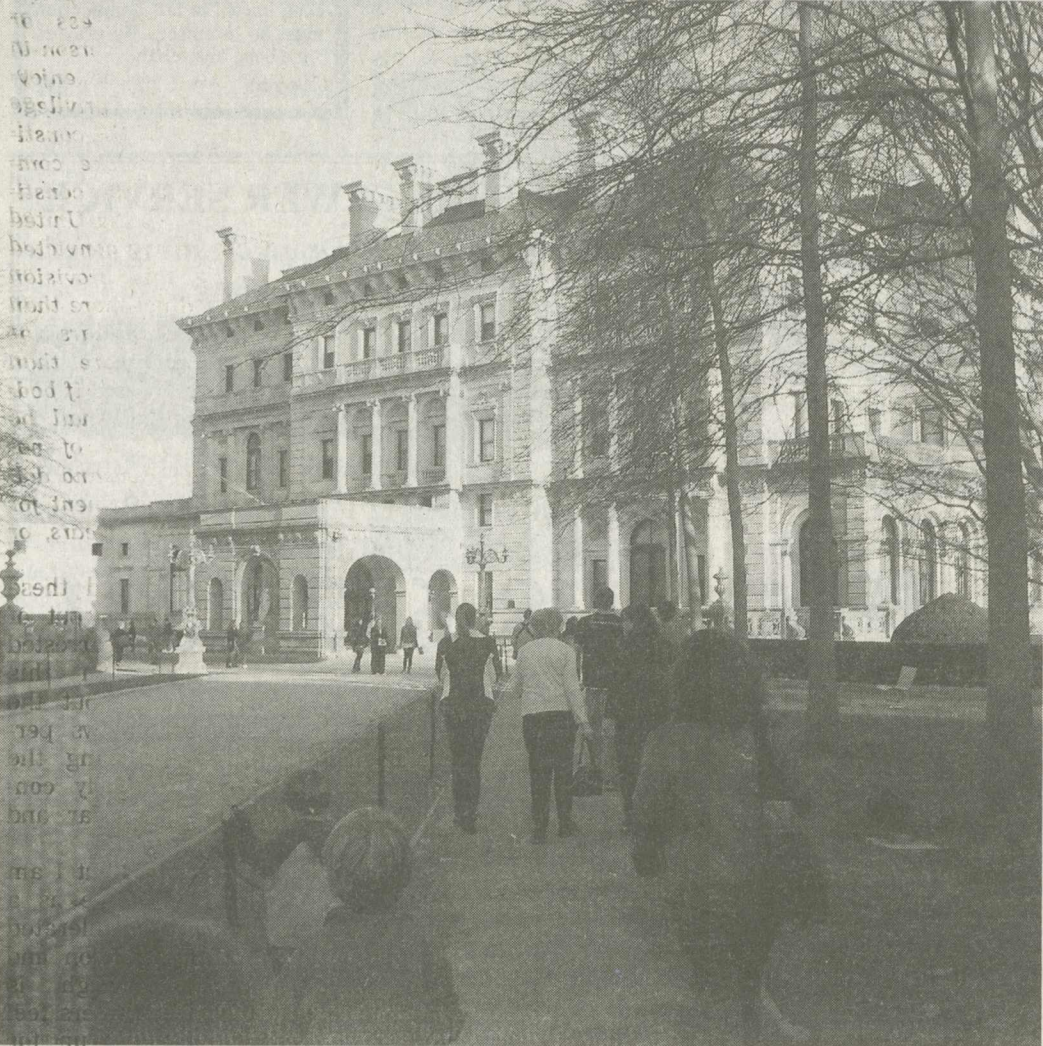

Visiting Newport slightly off-season is a great way to absorb the grandeur without the summertime crowds. Perhaps you'll even be inspired to recreate some of the magnificent holiday arrangements right in your own home.

Enjoy the Holidays at the Elms

This Newport mansion wears full regalia during the holidays. Don't miss the mansions for a day-trip full of grandeur, history, and something a little out of the ordinary.

The Breakers

Newport mansions bring a sense of opulence and luxury that we can all enjoy. During the holiday season, this mansion is decorated to the nines. Children can visit Santa, concerts and evening events are also available. Don't miss it this year.

OBITUARIES

Gaetano S. Biondo

Machinist for General Electric

WILMINGTON - Gaetano Salvatore Biondo, of Wilmington, formerly of Somerville, died suddenly on November 1, 2012, at the Winchester Hospital. He was 68 years old.

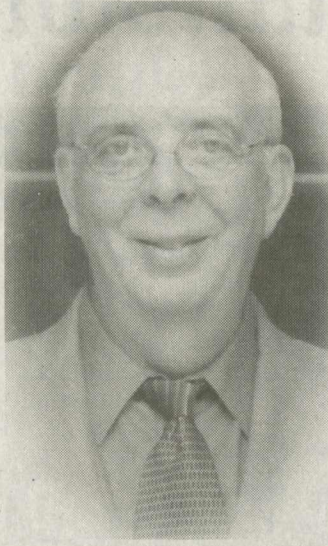

"Guy" as he was known to his family and friends, was born on July 8, 1944 in Boston, Massachusetts. He was the cherished son of the late Joseph and Vincenza (Tarantino) Biondo. Guy was raised and educated in Somerville. Following high school, Guy proudly served his country in the Army National Guard.

In 1966, Guy married his "sweetheart" Mary L. Rego. The couple raised their family in Somerville before moving to Wilmington 27 years ago, where they shared many great times together. Guy loved his family, he was a devoted husband, a wonderful father, and a loving "Papa". Guy cherished the time he spent with his family, traveling, teaching them to play sports, and sharing his passion for playing games.

Prior to retiring, Guy worked as a machinist for General Electric in Lynn for over 30 years. He was a talented and loyal employee and a great co-worker.

Guy was an active member of the Wilmington Senior Center where he played cards, went on trips, and took part in their many activities. Message from Chief Begonis - New Scam

Please pass on some information to your folks about a recent scam that is taking place. Folks are asked to purchase a CVS or other gift or cash card. The caller promises a windfall of cash if the person scratches the security code off the back of the card and gives the caller the number. Secretly, the caller then withdraws the funds from the card leaving the elderly person nothing left on the card. This one scam artist has funneled over a quarter of a million dollars from this scam. Please let the folks know they should give you or us a call if they are contacted by someone with a too good to be true offer. They should always understand that it is too good to be true.

Lots of Love Cat Rescue

Introducing Cher

WILMINGTON - "Do you believe in life after love?"

Cher knew love from humans, but was cast outside when her owner moved. Although in and out of different foster homes, she now resides in a place that can offer her space to roam, trim down her figure and blossom her into a shining star.

And shining she is, showing off her sweet loving and gentle ways. At first, she hid under the bed, but in a short time, she showed just how affectionate she is, as she loves to sleep with her foster mom and enjoys back and forth conversations.

At about two years old, she is so pretty to look at; a blend of white, light and dark gray fur. Cher does ok with dogs and cats but would do best as the only cat in her future home. She is a bit shy at first but with just a little time she will warm up quickly. Cher did have a big weight problem but is now looking great. She would benefit in a home where she is fed twice a day, so she can keep the figure she was meant to have. If you are looking for a big lounge and an affectionate lover, a cat that just wants to be near you, please consider her. Your life will be much sunnier with Cher.

For an adoption application or to see our other adoptable kittens & cats, visit www.lolcr.org or call 781-850-6684. Much needed donations are tax-deductible and can be made online.

Boys Soccer team defeats Bedford in fourth overtime

Foley and Saporito come through in the clutch

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

For the second time in four years, the Wilmington and North Andover Boys' Soccer teams will meet up in the Division 2 North Sectional Semi-Finals to be played Friday night at 5:30 pm at Woburn High School.

The winner of that game will face the winner of the Pentucket/Concord-Carlisle game for the sectional championship trophy, before moving onto the state semi-final and state championship games thereafter.

The No. 3 seed Wilmington (14-1-5) was able to move past the quarterfinal round in dramatic fashion on Tuesday night by defeating the No. 6 seed Bedford (12-2-5), 1-0, in a four-overtime victory played before the home crowd on a very cold evening.

After the two teams were scoreless through 80 minutes of regulation, it stayed that way through two separate 10-minute sudden-death frames. Then came the penalty kicks and through the first round (each team sends five different kids to the line) was tied at 4-4, it went to the second round, a sudden-death round with each team matching the other per kicker. That's when Chris Saporito scored what turned out to be the game winner, before his teammate Luke Foley made his second stop in the shoot-out moving to his left to smother the ball, allowing his teammates to mob him in celebration.

"You just have to guess right and there's no skill in it," said Foley. "If you guess one way you have to go that way. I like going left, it's the way I like to go, so whatever you can do you can do. The first couple went in but you can't get frustrated and you just have to go the way you guess and keep pushing."

As for Saporito, it was his first tally of the entire season and it couldn't have come at a better time.

"I just was focusing on where I was trying to shoot it," he said. "I didn't look at the goalie and I just tried to keep my head down. and then I just shot it. It was a lot of pressure but I tried not to think about it. I just thought like it was practice and I had to put it in and it did go in, so that was pretty nice."

The state tournament began on Sunday and the 'Cats knocked off Marblehead 4-0 at home which pushed the team to the quarterfinal round on Tuesday night playing the first of a Wildcat double-header with the Girls' team following with a dramatic shoot-out victory of their own. The Girls will now play after the Boys again on Friday as they have Hamilton-Wenham at 7:30 pm.

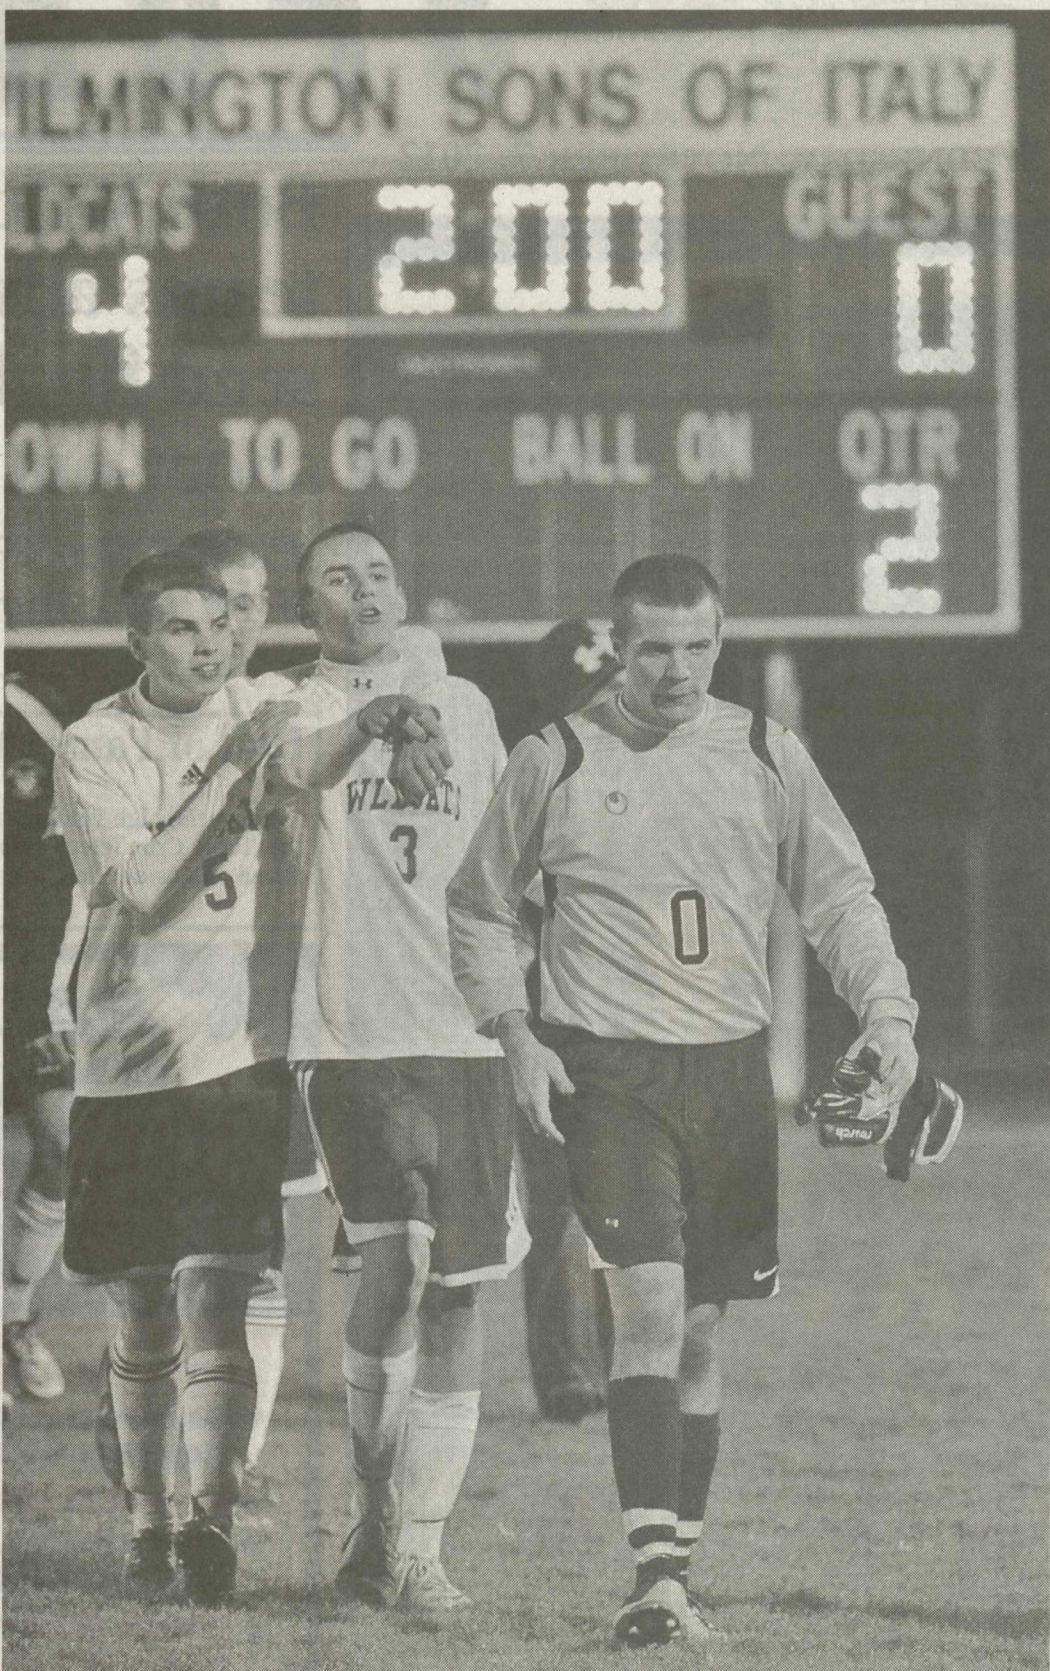

The Girls also were ignited by the tremendous performance of their goalie, Kim Woods in their shoot-out, much like the Boys were with Foley, who was a major part of the ice hockey team's state championship from this past March.

"Luke is good at those - he can make some saves on them which is vital," said boys' head coach Steve Scanlon. "Plus we have some good penalty kickers - we probably have six to eight of them who are good at it."

Two years ago, Wilmington lost a shoot-out playoff game at home against Malden Catholic, so Scanlon knows what it feels like on both sides of it.

"You might as well pitch nickels," he cracked. "It's tough for both teams and we have been on both sides of that and it's a heartbreaking thing after you play so hard for so long. Everyone empties their tank so it's tough to end on penalty kicks."

Before the penalty kicks began, both teams had golden chances to score with Wilmington High junior goalie Luke Foley posted shut out numbers 13 and 14 of the season this past week with wins over Marblehead and Bedford. On Tuesday he made two huge saves in the shoot-out to help the Wildcats advance. Walking behind him are teammates Drew Foley and Connor Townsend who enjoy the 4-0 first round victory played on Sunday. (photo by JoeBrownphotos.com).

under a minute to go in the second sudden-death overtime frame. On a cross pass in front, Wilmington's Drew Foley blocked an apparent goal from landing inside the left post. Then seconds later, Middlesex League Division 2 Player of the Year Colin Doherty drilled a shot from 20 yards out that banked hard off the far post.

"I thought it was a pretty evenly matched game," said Scanlon. "I thought we carried the first half, and I thought they had the edge in the second half. Both teams had trouble penetrating, and then both teams had great chances to score in the overtime. Drew Foley took that ball off the line and that was a goal, and then Doherty's drive off the bar. Then you move to those penalty kicks and they are nerve-racking."

Wilmington led 1-0 after Kory McGilvary started the penalty kicks with a goal going low left. Foley responded by making a save diving to his left. After that Wilmington took leads of 2-1, 3-2 and 4-3 on goals by Drew Foley, Jimmy Murphy and Chris Michelangelo only to see Bedford tie it up each time including on the fifth and final shot, sending the game into the second round of the shoot-out. That's when Saporito stepped up for the goal and Luke Foley following by preventing one.

"I think it's (Saporito's) first goal of the season," said Scanlon. "I can't remember him scoring so that's great for him. He walked up there in a very tough situation and to put one in is pretty special for him."

While the game was overshadowed by the penalty kicks, and the cold weather, certainly not lost throughout all of it was the stellar play of the Wildcat defense. The group led by McGilvary at sweeper-back with outside backs Connor Townsend and Jared Walsh played fantastic again. They helped the team pitch its 14th shut out in 20 games this season - a truly remarkable accomplishment.

"I have to give credit to the defense, they all played really well and we couldn't have done anything without them this whole season," said Luke Foley. "I have to credit all of them. Kory (McGilvary) is a great sweeper - he does well with the ball and he doesn't panic. The same goes with the other two Jared Walsh and Connor Townsend. They are really good and they both also know what to do." Added Scanlon, "That's been our bread and butter all season long - the staunch defense and in the playoffs it's often the deciding factor and championships are easily won by great defense in almost every sport. I'd rather be a strong defensive team but at some point, you got to light the lamp."

Just a few hours after celebrating the victory, Luke Foley celebrated his 17th birthday and said that was already the best gift he'll receive. On Friday, he's hoping there's one more gift left for the entire team, a victory over the team's old rivals from the Cape Ann League.

'Cats first trounce Magicians in opening round

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

There was no magic in the air in Wilmington for the Marblehead Magicians.

On Sunday night, the No. 3 seed Wildcats Boys Soccer team defeated the No. 19 seed Marblehead, 4-0, in a first round Division 2 North State Tournament Sectional game played at Alumni Field. It was the second time in a day, and third time in four days that a WHS Varsity team sent a Marblehead team packing - as the Girls Soccer team did it earlier in the day with a 1-0 win, and then on Thursday, the Field Hockey team started the sweep with a 1-0 victory over the same athletic program.

With the victory, the Wildcats' improved to 13-1-5 overall and then went on to defeat the No. 6 seed Bedford, 2-1 in four overtimes on Tuesday night back at Alumni Field to collect win number 14 and advance to the sectional semi-finals.

It took a while before the Wildcats settled into their game on Sunday night - having not played in a week after the last regular season win over Tewksbury. The game was scoreless at halftime, and head coach Steve Scanlon said although the team didn't play great in the first 40 minutes, he just reiterated some of the basics to them during the ten-minute break.

"We just explained to them that there was no need to panic," he said. "We were bypassing our midfielders with these long balls and that's not how we play. We build our attack through our midfielders. We use Drew Foley, Mitch DeAmbrose and Chris Michelangelo to start our attack. We just needed to get back to the way we play. They were able to settle down in the second half, but you could tell that once we got the first goal, that we had more to come."

Wilmington dominated most of the first half, missing out on ample amount of scoring opportunities in the first 20 minutes before getting too comfortable in the second 20 minutes.

"It took us a while to get going," said Scanlon. "We missed a lot of opportunities. They started to pack in defensively with a lot of numbers so you were hoping it wouldn't be one of those games where you struggled. But we had some point blank chances that we missed out on. I thought we completely dominated in the early part of the game, but then they took it to us in the final twenty minutes or so of the first half. It wasn't like they had a lot of scoring chances, but we just got out of our game by passing our midfielders with the long ball.

Just a minute into the second half, Wilmington got on the scoreboard. Junior Kory McGilvary started the offensive barrage as he was part of three of the team's four goals, all the while playing the sweeper-back position. On the first tally, he sent a long throw-in to the middle of a pack and Michelangelo went up and beautifully headed the ball into the back of the net for what proved to be the game winner.

Then about 14 minutes later, Wilmington added to the lead, although on a controversial tally. Connor Townsend sent in a long throw-in and it went off of Jimmy Murphy and past the goalie. The referee signaled that the ball went past the line, but it appeared to some that the Magicians' keeper cleared it before it went over the line.

"The ref was on the end line and he ruled it a goal right away but it did look like the keeper was able to clear it before it went over so we did catch a break there," said Scanlon.

Then in the 74th minute, the combination of McGilvary and Michelangelo hooked up again, just about the identical play as the first one, and the junior netted home his second goal of the game, and first two goals of his post-season career.

Finally with a minute left in the game, McGilvary scored on a free kick, putting one to the top right corner from outside the top of the box.

Behind McGilvary was keeper Luke Foley who made two saves to record his 13th shutout of the season.

"They were a scrappy team," said Scanlon. "They definitely make you work. You could tell they were an excited team after upsetting Reading (in a preliminary game), but at the same time it was tough for us to get going after not playing in a week."

Marblehead ends the season with an overall record of 7-9-3 which included the 2-1 overtime win over the No. 14 seed Reading held on Friday night.

Football team rebounds -- effort wise -- with loss to Watertown

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

WATERTOWN

Everyone has bad days, weeks or games or makes ill-advised decisions. But it's what you learn from them and how you come back from that adversity which makes you a better person.

A week ago Friday, the Wilmington High School Football team took one on the chin, losing 56-3 to Melrose in one of the worst beatings in the history of the program. Obviously, the Wildcats had a bad day. But this past Friday, the team responded with a tremendous effort, rallying from a two touchdown deficit early in the first quarter to come back to tie the game but only to lose, 27-14, to Watertown in a Middlesex League Division 2 Conference game played Friday night despite off and on rain held at Victory Field.

The loss puts Wilmington at 2-7 overall with two games left against two teams heading to the playoffs, Burlington, who already clinched the ML Division 2 title, and Tewksbury who clinched the Merrimack Valley Conference Division 2 title and will be matched up against Reading, the ML Division 1 Champion for the second straight year just five days after the Thanksgiving clash. With the win, Watertown snapped its three-game losing streak and went over the .500 mark at 5-4 overall.

Trailing 14-0 early on, it appeared as if another very lopsided game would happen, but the Wildcats rallied back behind a strong performance by James O'Regan, who tossed two touchdown passes to tie the game up at 14 at the halftime break.

"They didn't quit and it would have been easy after being down 14-0, especially after last week's game against Melrose," said head coach Mike Barry. "The kids fought back. I thought we kind of dominated in the third quarter, we just didn't come out with any points and we gave up that punt return for the touchdown and that was the difference in the game."

Watertown received the opening kick-off and converted right away, putting together a 7-play, 66-yard drive led by power running back Logan Riley, who took four carries in that drive for a combined 53 yards including a 27-yard touchdown run coming on first-and-ten. The conversion kick was good and the Red Raiders led 7-0.

Wilmington couldn't get anything going and responded with a three-and-out offensive series. Watertown took over on its own 39 after the punt, and this time it took 8-plays and 71 yards before they found the end zone again as quarterback Joey Farrar found T.J. Hairston for a 25-yard TD reception and the kick was good making it 14-0 with 1:39 left in the first quarter. Riley again was a factor in that drive taking two more carries for a combined 19 yards giving him 72 yards at that point, while he ended up with 171 on the day.

"They hurt us on the outside runs early on but we made some adjustments, and then the kid (Riley) started to make some nice cut backs," said Barry.

Trailing 14-0, Wilmington had some work to do and they accomplished that on one play. O'Regan took a snap on first-and-ten from the 'Cats 39 and sent a quick pass over the middle to senior Tim Woods, who cut across the middle of the field from the right to the left, and went untouched for a 61-yard TD pass. O'Regan's kick was good and the lead was cut in half at 14-7 with 1:17 left in the wild first quarter.

After a three-and-out by Watertown, both teams exchanged turnovers. O'Regan tossed his first of three interceptions on the night, but got the ball back two plays later after Brian Priem recovered a fumble. Priem had a very good game, adding two defensive quarterback sacks, the fumble recovery while also making a sensational diving grab for the second touchdown, which came with nine seconds left in the first half.

In that drive, Wilmington started with the ball on its own 15 after O'Regan came up with an impressive defensive interception. He then led the offense back on the field and put together an 8-play, 85-yard scoring drive. He hit Ryan Carrochino for a 33-yard reception and Sam Borsetti for an 8-yarder, which put the ball on the Watertown 7 yard line, on third-and-two with seven seconds left in the half. That's when O'Regan took the nap, rolled to his right, turned back to his left and sent a low pass to his left end of the end zone to Priem, who made a sensational diving grab, all the while O'Regan took a big shot from the Red Raiders' defensive end.

"That was a great catch," said Barry. "Brian made a really nice catch on that one and James made a great throw as he got tackled pretty hard on that play. That was a nice job by him, so I was happy about that."

That took the game into the halftime break, nodded up at 14. Then in the third quarter, Wilmington completely dominated by running a total of 22 offensive plays compared to just one by Watertown. The 'Cats managed one first down on the first series and punted, but Hairston took the punt return 82 yards for what turned out to be the game winning touchdown with 7:34 left in the third quarter.

Wilmington's offense went right back on the field and responded with a 16-play, 72-yard drive, that saw the Wildcats manage five first downs and chew up 7:02 on the clock. The Wildcats moved the ball to the Watertown eight yard line, facing first-and-goal, Wilmington couldn't convert and tie the game back up. Carrochino took the first play three yards on a run, which was followed by three incomplete passes.

"We threw it in their early in the second half, and then we tried to run the ball (on the first play) and then throw it (the other three downs)," said Barry. "Our running game was a bit inconsistent, but hindsight is always 20-20. If I could have banged it in there (with a running play) on another down, maybe I would have. Obviously I'm beating myself up for that but we had two touchdown passes earlier in the game, so I'll beat myself up for that because we didn't get it with what I thought we had there."

Watertown followed with a three-and-out and punted giving Wilmington great field position at the Watertown 42. After a first down, the Wildcats made a terrific all, a double reverse with Borsetti taking the ball inside the ten yard line but the play was called back on a holding call against Wilmington. Three plays later, Watertown's defense picked off another pass on its own 5. From there, they responded with a 10-play, 77-yard drive capped off by Riley's second TD run of the game, this one from two yards out with two minutes to go in the game to put the nail in the coffin.

"We had some turnovers and we missed some chances (to score) but I thought we fought, we competed and we tried," said Barry. "After last week we really didn't experience what we experienced and the kids came back tonight and they really responded."

Barry was asked what the message was to his team throughout the week of practice leading up to the game against Watertown after the miserable loss to Melrose.

"I just told them to remember where you came from," he answered.

"I heard that a few times, remember where you came from. Here in Wilmington, I think right now we're struggling to get some wins, but we still put up a fight. We're still going to fight and we got into a fight tonight."

Despite the three interceptions, sophomore O'Regan took a major step forward in this game. He completed 10-of-22 passes for 164 yards with two touchdowns, and just seemed to be much more comfortable in the pocket compared to last week's game.

"James has been coming along all season," said Barry. "He's a great competitor, he's a good athlete and he competes out there. He's a very hard worker and he's always willing to learn and he definitely took some steps forward tonight."

Carrochino led the running game with 74 yards on 17 carries and also had the 33-yard reception, while, Woods had five receptions for 97 yards including his score.

After being on the road the last two games, Wilmington will return home with the two games with Burlington and Tewksbury.

"We have two good offensive teams with Burlington and Tewksbury," said Barry. "I think Burlington may have struggled early on defensively but some of the stuff we have seen on them lately, they have gotten their act together on defense. They have a really good defense. They have actually gotten much better overall, on both sides of the ball."

New high school football playoff format starting next year

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Nearly two weeks ago, a vote of 161-131 by the MIAA sanctioned schools voted in favor of implementing the new MIAA Football Committee's proposal for a revamped playoff system. The plan is a two-year deal beginning in 2013, and after the two years is completed the plan will be revisited to see if tweaks need to be made.

This new plan totally eliminates the current high school playoff system where 12 teams earn Super Bowl titles. Later this month and into the early part of December, there will be semi-final playoff games played the Tuesday after Thanksgiving with those winners advancing to play in their respective Super Bowl game in various destinations. Tewksbury and Shawsheen Tech have already clinched playoff berths, with the Redmen slated to take on Reading in the Division 2A Semi-Final and Shawsheen will face the Catholic Central League Champion in the Division 4 Semi-final. If the Redmen and Rams prevail in that first game, both teams will move to the Super Bowl.

But after this year, that ride to the Bowl will be completely different. The idea behind the MIAA Football Committee's proposal is address five different needs of the current high school football format that takes place across the entire state, and not just Eastern Mass. Those five needs include:

- 1). A true state champion will be crowned in six divisions. Football can finally claim they are like all other MIAA team sports in that there will be one legitimate champion in each of the six divisions. It will also create a special atmosphere for the first time at Gillette Stadium, a true Super Saturday in which every high school football team in Massachusetts will have the opportunity to play for a title there.
- 2). Address safety concerns. No longer will teams be forced to play three games in 10 days to win a Super Bowl. Under the present system, playoffs will begin on Week 8 and continue every weekend until the Super Bowl with a break on the weekend following Thanksgiving. Thus the 12 teams who qualify for the championship game will have a nine-day break following Turkey Day to prepare for the game.
- 3). Maintain league and

Thanksgiving Day games: This plan will not keep teams away from playing their rivals on Turkey Day. While there is a possibility two Thanksgiving Day rivals could meet during the season or playoffs, there is some leeway to avoid that (especially during the regular season).

4). Increase post-season opportunities for student-athlete in football: Under the current plan, only league champions can compete in the post-season, thus leaving many quality teams by the wayside. Under the new setup, the top eight teams in each division will qualify, thus not making an early-season loss as critical.

5). Create divisions based on enrollment and competitive balance: The divisions will be divided into sections, North, South, Central and West.

That being said, there's a lot of questions, concerns and controversy over this new implemented system. Under this new format, teams will be divided up into six new divisions, and approximately 12 teams from each division will qualify for post-season play and those playoff games will be scheduled for weeks eight through ten, before two teams are left to be matched up in a Super Bowl contest. Those teams who fail to qualify for post-season will then have three regular season match-ups against similar teams from its own division, but those scheduled games won't be announced until after week seven is concluded.

There's also a good chance that playoff and non-playoff teams, could face a team more than once during a season, perhaps even up to three times, although the MIAA Football Committee has repeatedly said it will try to avoid those multiple match-ups between the same teams as much as possible.

In the North (which includes Wilmington, Tewksbury and Shawsheen), the playoff system will be determined by its own Playoff Rating System. Leagues with five or more teams will automatically qualify two teams for the playoffs and leagues with five or less teams will automatically qualify just one team. However, leagues will establish their own criteria for determining playoff teams. Additional teams from a league may possibly qualify for the playoffs through the power rating system, giving 12 points for a win over a team in a higher division, 10 points for a win over a team in the same division and 8 points for a team in a lower division.

Each current MIAA sanctioned school had a vote into this plan (sent in by either the high school principal or athletic director), no matter if that school offers football or not, which also seemed to raise some eyebrows. Wilmington voted against it, while Tewksbury voted for it. Both WHS Athletic Director Ed Harrison and head coach Mike Barry were against it.

"I had a gut feeling that it would pass because of Central and Western Mass and that's the ones they went after, that kind of thing to try to persuade them to vote for it," said Harrison. "But for me, I'll give it the two years and see where it's at. I just think the possibility of playing teams back-to-back weeks or twice in a season - they say they are going to look out for it and hope that it doesn't happen, but that's one thing that I didn't agree with."

Harrison was then asked about the scenario of teams that don't qualify for the post-season and what happens to their final three opponents?

"If you are done after week seven and you don't make the playoffs, you have three games left and the way I understand it, is you'll get the three games right away," he said. "You'll know who you are going to play right away and from what I understand, they are going to try to avoid having teams play each other for the second time (in those three weeks). But it's still going to be done by percentages so if I'm playing you, I'm playing you and I don't know how that's going to work. I look at Melrose and Wakefield. They are going to play each other in the first seven games which is an automatic, and then there's the possibility of the teams playing again in weeks eight, nine and ten and then they play each other on Thanksgiving."

"I know I'm old fashion but I really like the tradition of Thanksgiving. I really do. There's a possibility, and I don't really know on this, but we say we qualify for the playoffs and we face Tewksbury in week ten say on a Friday or a Saturday night, and then we play them the following Thursday on Thanksgiving. You already scouted them up, so you're all set that way. I just think it's going to be tough." Barry echoed pretty much the same thoughts as Harrison, including the same example of Wakefield and Melrose possibly playing each other more than once.

"I don't like it," he said. "Personally I don't like it. Even though we are struggling right now in a good league, we're in a good league that we can compete in every year and it kind of takes away from the league, it takes away from Thanksgiving and it takes away from a lot of things. That's gone. They fluff it over with the package they present but you see Melrose and they could play Wakefield three times, and we could play Tewksbury twice. We could play them Saturday and then come back and face them on Thanksgiving. That doesn't make sense."

"Also if you look at the way they broke up some of the divisions, I know they realigned some of it but the way they did it doesn't make sense to me. I don't know how they did it but it just doesn't add up. I have a lot of questions with it, but the bottom line is it passed so we have to move on and live with it."

On the flip side of it, Tewksbury voted in favor of it. Athletic Director Brian Hickey said different proposals on how to improve a football playoff system has been discussed for years and decades, so he's willing to give this plan a try.

"I understand the varying points of it for sure, and I was in favor of it," he said. "I think I was one of the few (athletic directors) in the MVC to vote for it. I think for Tewksbury, this has been an issue that we have been talking about for a long time; a true playoff system and an equality for the small school. Tewksbury has been a small school in a very large school conference and we welcome that role, no doubt about it."

"We have looked at lots of different models over the years and lots of different things have been tried. If you look at Tewksbury's Super Bowl appearances, in the 1990s in a quirk we ended up playing in the Division 1 Super Bowl. So this goes back to our Super Bowl appearances back in the 1980s, the 90s and in the past decade or so. We have had several appearances and each one has been different. We know that this is something that needs to be addressed."

"I think in our position, if this new format tries to address our equality position, it eliminates the three games in ten days, the three huge games in ten days with Thanksgiving, the first round of the playoffs and then the Super Bowl. I think this allows for a good team to take a month's run at the playoffs. And it also allows on those years that you aren't doing so well, a little bit of equity towards the end of the schedule and you play another team that's in a similar situation."

"I think what this does is it eliminates the three games in ten days, it still respects the Thanksgiving game and there may be some down sides to this, but we are willing to try it for these first few years because I feel as though (the current plan) needs to be fixed. Some teams don't feel that way but I respect their decisions."

Finally, TMHS Head Football coach Brian Aylward had mixed reactions on the plan, because he has embraced the fact that Tewksbury has been the smallest school in the MVC for so many years and decades.

"To be honest, I didn't really care what happened with it," he said. "Part of me thinks that I've been here for so long as part of the smallest school in the conference and knowing how hard of a struggle that is, it seems like you can't do anything right and that's a tough thing. But I also think we have done some good things in the league. To do the split (large and small school divisions) otherwise we couldn't (be going to the playoffs for the second straight year) so I'm appreciative of that."

"I think this new format has some pluses and some minuses but I always looked at it as what if the teams if you are down personnel and you are out of the playoffs, and say we have seven or eight injuries instead of going over and facing a 9-0 Chelmsford team, you're going to face someone who has the same type of setbacks in their season and I think that has some value to it. Then it becomes an opportunity for a positive experience."

Now that the plan has passed, there's a possibility that the Wilmington-Tewksbury rivalry could happen twice in a football season, depending on if both teams make it to the playoffs, if they fail to make it the playoffs or if it's a regular divisional game.

"The double-up thing on Thanksgiving, I'll tell you what I really don't want to coach in two (games against Wilmington) but a lot of people would like to watch two games because they like it," said Aylward. "And I like it, too, but I don't know if I want to go through that two times a year."

Wilmington has three top finishers during ML Meet

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

WOBURN - Both the Wilmington High School Boys and Girls Cross Country teams finished in 9th place during the annual Middlesex League Cross Country Championship meet held at the Woburn Country Club last Thursday.

The Boys finished with 220 points, finishing ahead of Belmont, Watertown and Stoneham and behind Lexington, Arlington, Wakefield, Reading, Woburn, Winchester, Melrose and Burlington, who were first through seventh, respectively.

The Girls team finished with 201 points ahead of Burlington, Stoneham and Watertown and behind Lexington, Wakefield, Reading, Woburn, Winchester, Arlington, Belmont and Melrose.

The highlight of the meet came from freshman Callie O'Connell, who had the best overall finish from either team as she was fourth in the girls' race. She completed the 2.5 mile course with a time of 15:16, trailing Leah Brams of Belmont (14:57) and then Woburn teammates Molly Persky (15:10) and Gina D'Addario (15:12).

"Callie ran a terrific race," said head coach Tom Bradley. "Her 15:16 time is 36 seconds better than last year's performance. We thought she could do 15:20 and she did a bit better than that. I thought she ran a very smart race and show how much potential she has."

Behind O'Connell came teammates Kate Richardson (35th, 17:07), Sydnee Russo (39th, 17:17), Nicole Romanzo (56th, 17:55), Keara MacCorkle (67th, 18:33), Maeve Sullivan (72nd, 19:09) and Michelle Barnes (78th, 19:46).

"I was pleased with the Girls effort in all three races," said Bradley, referring to the JV and Freshmen races. "Kate Richardson finished second for us and took 36 seconds off last year in a very determined effort. Kate's improvement from her freshman year to now is nothing short of a miracle. She has earned our respect and then some. Syd Russo and Nicole Romanzo did better than last year and did what they did all season."

In the JV race, Savannah Hubbard and Jackie Ryan ran very well according to Bradley, with the former taking 90 seconds off of her time from last year.

In the Boys' race, Steve Halas and Erik Alatalo led the way for the Wildcats finishing 10th and 13th at respective times of 13:16 and 13:20.

"Steve and Erik were up against some very good boys that are going to be running in Division 1 (college) programs down the road," said Bradley. "Finishing tenth and thirteenth is excellent. They both put forward a great effort."

Coming across the finish line behind those two runners include Andrew Sears (56th, 14:45), Sam Alatalo (70th, 15:40), Ryan Williams (71st, 15:48), Chris Maienza (74th, 16:29) and Dan Fothergill (78th, 17:21).

"Andrew Sears ran a very strong race and Sam Alatalo stepped up to be fourth for us in the varsity race," said Bradley. "Adam Maienza and Chris Maienza in their first year of cross country were very solid all year and again in this meet. And Dan Fothergill ran seventh for us and has improved a great deal."

Also before the meet was held, it was announced that Callie O'Connell, Steve Halas and Erik Alatalo were named Middlesex League All-Stars.

Two days after the Middlesex League Meet, 14 combined boys and girls participated in the Coaches Meet in Wrentham, the same course which will host the Eastern Mass Championships this Saturday. O'Connell participated in the Freshmen Girls' race and finished second with a time of 11:38 for 3K. Maeve Sullivan medaled in the same race and Annie Romanzo also put forth a strong effort. In the sophomore race, Jackie Ryan medaled with her best race of the season, a 23:29 time for 5K, while teammate Keara MacCorkle also did well.

In the 11th and 12th grade race, Kate Richardson was tops for Wilmington as she took home a medal with her 21:54 time. Nicole Romanzo and Savannah Hubbard also competed with times of 22:20 and 23:46.

On the Boys' side, Chris Maienza finished at 20:38 in the sophomore 5K race. Adam Maienza was first for the Wildcats in the junior-senior division, coming in at 19:16 for 5K, with Sam Alatalo and Dan Fothergill finishing second and third for the team.

To the left, Erik Alatalo was the second finisher for the WHS Boys Cross Country team, and above, Callie O'Connell was the top female finisher for Wilmington and fourth overall during last Thursday's Middlesex League Championship Meet held at the Woburn Country Club.

Girls to make first sectional semi-final appearance on Friday

Woods, team, make program history

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Even before Tuesday night's game Kim Woods earned her stripes.

After Tuesday night's game, she earned three more stripes, each one representing the huge save she made during the shoot-out period to help the Wilmington High School Girls' Soccer team make program history.

After giving up two goals on the first two shots, Woods made three consecutive stops helping the Wildcats edge past Wayland 1-0 in the Division 2 North Quarterfinal Round played before a big, loud and very cold crowd on Tuesday night at Alumni Stadium.

More importantly, the win pushed the No. 6 seed Wilmington (14-3-3) into Friday's sectional semi-final against former Cape Ann League rival, the No. 2 seed Hamilton-Wenham Generals (15-1-2) to be played at Woburn High School at 7:30 pm, following the WHS Boys semi-final game against North Andover.

No WHS Girls' Soccer team has ever made it to the sectional semi-finals dating back to the program's inception in the 1987.

For Woods, certainly getting to this point in her athletic career means so much - last year she didn't play a single minute in the tournament, watching from the bench as a back-up goalie including the team's first round shoot-out loss to Arlington. This year she became the starter early on, lost some playing time at various times during the season, but came on very strong towards the end to keep the No. 1 spot.

On Tuesday she saved her best for last ... three different times.

"When it comes to penalty kicks it's just about guessing," she said. "I was just trying to guess where they were going and then react. Plus the fans kept me pumped up. They were all so enthusiastic, they were on my side and that gave me a lot of strength too."

The strength she said, took some of the pressure off of her.

"I did feel a lot of pressure but that other goalie was really good," she said. "She made some really good saves, so I had to show that I was competition too. I just went and dove for it and it actually was probably one of the better saves I've made all season."

Although her third save ultimately was the deciding factor in the win, it was her first save which was the turning point to the entire shoot-out frame.

"She came up huge, just huge," said Wildcat Head Coach Sue Hendee. "(That first save she made) was such a momentum shift and it also gave out shooters more confidence. She did a great job."

Although Wilmington shot first, the team trailed 2-1 after the first two sets of shooters. Wilmington's third shooter followed and her shot was saved, so another Wayland tally and the game was all but over.

"After the first two shots went by me, I knew that I had to save at least one, and when that third shot came, I just knew that one was mine," said Woods. "She hit it and thank God I stopped it."

From there, Wilmington scored on its last two shots thanks to Lauren Amazeen and the Middlesex League Division 2 Player of the Year Holly Niemiec. On the other end of that, Woods made two more stops, the last coming as she darted quickly to her left to smother the ball, roll halfway over, before putting her finger up in the air in complete joy.

"It means a whole lot that we got this far," said Woods. "We lost in the first round last year, now going to the semi-finals it gives us a lot of confidence because I'm not even sure how long it's been since (a Wildcat team has advanced that far). So hopefully we'll win and make it to the state (final)."

Woods watched her teammates take a 1-0 lead during regulation as Alex Bischoff scored a very nice goal beating two defenders down the right wing side before pushing the ball to the opposite low left hand corner on a great feed from Niemiec coming with under three minutes to go in the first half.

Wayland was able to tie the game up on an "own goal" as the ball was ricocheted off a Wilmington defender coming with 23 minutes left in the game.

The rest of the way neither team could find the back of the net, through the final 43 minutes, which included the back-to-back sudden-death ten minute frames which led to the PK's.

"I just told them to be confident with everything that we have practiced," said Hendee. "We practiced the penalty kicks and (we just told them) to be relaxed, take a deep breath before you go, and focus because the keeper has no idea where you are going."

That was the case with Niemiec's game winner.

"I have a certain place I go too everytime I take one," she said. "It was difficult because the last three PK's I've taken were saved, so it was a good feeling to finally put one in."

Now with two tournament wins - the first one over

Marblehead on Sunday - Wilmington will face Hamilton-Wenham on Friday night.

"I know they have one excellent forward, who they kind of build their team around," said Hendee. "So we'll be working on a little shadowing work which we have already started a little bit with anticipation (of winning today)."

Until Friday comes, Wilmington will enjoy this dramatic victory.

"It means the world to me," said Niemiec. "I really want to finish senior year so strong and I really think we can go all the way (and win the state championship)."

WHS Field Hockey Story

The WHS Field Hockey team defeated Marblehead in the first round of the state tournament before losing to the 13-time state champion Watertown Red Raiders 6-1, despite holding a 1-0 lead seven minutes into the second half. Due to space restraints, the story on those two games and the team's season will appear in next week's issue. We apologize for the inconvenience.

Girls' Soccer team tops Marblehead in tourney opener

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

For the first time since 2005, the Wilmington High School Girls' Soccer team came away with a state tournament win.

Not since beating Wakefield on its home turf seven years ago, have the Wildcats enjoyed a post-season victory. On Sunday afternoon, the No. 6 seed Wildcats topped the No. 11 seed Marblehead, 1-0, in a Division 2 North Sectional contest played at Alumni Field.

With the win, the Wildcats improved to 13-3-3 overall, while the Magicians end their season with an overall record of 9-6-3. Wilmington moved onto the quarterfinal round and defeated Wayland 2-1 in a shoot-out on Tuesday night to collect the team's 14th win of the season and make program history by advancing to the sectional semi-finals.

Wilmington is now one of the four teams left in the section, and it all started with the win over Marblehead.

"I don't think the score is indicative of the game," said Wilmington head coach Sue Hendee. "We totally dominated. We outshot them 15-2 and we did dominate. I thought their goalie made some real nice plays and then we just missed the net on some other scoring opportunities. But we definitely controlled the play throughout the entire game."

Hendee added that Marblehead was a tough opponent to see in the first round.

"They are very comparable to a Middlesex League team," she said. "They are physical. They didn't have a ton of skill, but they were physical. If you hesitated for a second, they would beat you to the ball."

The game was scoreless until the 15th minute of the second half. Junior Rachel Mara put a shot on net, and the ball came across the crease and through several defenders before senior tri-captain Holly Niemiec was there to put home the loose ball for the game winner.

Wilmington continued to carry the play for most of the rest of the game until Marblehead started to make it a little hairy down the stretch.

"They started to send a lot of people up," said Hendee. "And I thought when they did that our defenders did a real nice job of staying composed and not allowing any legitimate scoring chances. Marblehead had a few shots from outside but nothing in close at all."

Hendee pointed out that her five defenders, outside backs Christina Spinós, Adrianna Kippenberger and Devyn Malatesta along with sweeper and stopper backs Lauren McKenna and Kelly Hartsough all played very well, as did midfielders Kaitlyn Curley and Kristen Tavares.

Senior goalie Kim Woods made two saves to record the shut out.

League All-Stars

Last week, the Middlesex League announced its all-league and all-star players. Wilmington did very well as Holly Niemiec was named the Middlesex League Division 2 Player of the Year, which is an automatic all-league selection. She was joined by three players, McKenna, Curley and Alex Bischoff, while, Hartsough and Spinós were named league all-stars.

Wilmington High senior captain Holly Niemiec, who was chosen as the Middlesex League Division 2 Player of the Year, heads the ball during Sunday's tournament win over Marblehead. She then scored game winning goal in the shoot-out period of Tuesday night's win over Wayland putting the team into the sectional semi-finals for the first time in program history. Altavesta Brothers help Framingham and Springfield win

Sports Editor

For the second year in a row, Framingham State University captured the Bogan Division championship in the New England Football Conference to finish their regular schedule with nine consecutive wins after an opening game loss. The PSU Rams demolished Worcester State University 65-21 on Saturday at home in their final regular season game.

Junior Michael Altavesta, a member of the 2009 MVC All-Star Football Team as a linebacker and offensive lineman for Tewksbury High as well as a leading wrestler, is a linebacker for the Rams, credited with 63 tackles and two interceptions this year.

Sophomore Jerry Etienne, a 2010 Lowell Sun All Star Honorable Mention at Defensive Line and a prominent discus thrower when playing for Tewksbury High School, also sees action at defensive line and special teams for Framingham.

Speaking of football and the Altavesta family, Joel Altavesta a senior at Springfield College had a huge game on Saturday rushing for 170 yards and scoring a touchdown to help his team defeat RPI 42-21. On the season, he has rushed for a team high 698 yards and eight touchdowns. Bentley University celebrated Homecoming with a 38-21 win over Merrimack College in Northeast-10 football Saturday afternoon. Wilmington resident Stephen Stewart contributed in the win with yet another defensive interception.

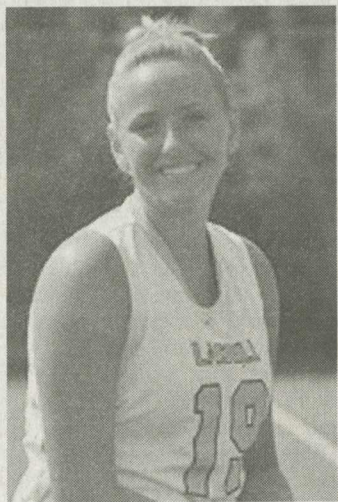

The UMass-Lowell women's cross country team tied for fifth place during Sunday's NCAA East Region Women's Cross Country Championship at Mine Falls Park.

Senior Colleen Kennedy

(Wilmington, Mass.) took 53rd in 23:43.6 while senior Nicole Skotz (Tewksbury, Mass.) capped UMass Lowell's effort in 81st in 24:21.7.

In Field Hockey play, Kaitlyn Riley of Wilmington was one of six seniors who dressed for the Bentley Falcons for the final time in her career. Riley served as a back-up goalie this season.

Wilmington native Cristina Wilson finished up a solid freshman campaign playing Field Hockey for Lasell College. The team's season recently came to an end with a 5-0 loss to the top seed Husson University in the quarterfinals of the North Atlantic Conference. Wilson finished with an impressive six goals and one assist while suiting up in all 19 of the team's games.

The Saint Michael's College women's volleyball team went 0-3 last week, falling in three road contests in Northeast-10 Conference play. Tewksbury resident Lindsey Phenix had three blocks in the losing effort.

Turning to soccer play, Wilmington resident Matt Figueiredo has scored five goals for the Salem State Vikings, who are currently 10-6-1 as a team. This past week he was named to the

2012 Massachusetts State Collegiate Athletic Conference Men's Soccer second team, where he was among the league's top ten scorers with his 11 points.

At UMass-Lowell, Wilmington's Charlotte Jensen has started eight games and Tewksbury's Jane Hatzikonstantis is 2-4-1 as a goalie for the River Hawks, who are currently 6-9-2 overall.

Freshman Sara Alonardo, of Wilmington, scored two goals in her first collegiate game to lead the Saint Anselm College women's hockey team to a 4-0 victory over the Pioneers of Sacred Heart University recently. For that effort, she was named the school's Female Athlete of the Week.

Also in hockey, Wilmington resident Joe Pendenza has scored a goal for the UMass-Lowell Men's Hockey team, who are off to a slow 1-3-1 start. Over at Bentley College, Tewksbury's Kyle O'Brien has a goal and an assist, as well as a +2 rating as a freshman defenseman for the Falcons, who are 2-2 thus far. Additionally, Wilmington resident Ryan Maskell, a goaltender, has made the Southern New Hampshire Men's team.

Moving away from the college athletes to locals who participated in various road races over the last two weeks, once again the field is very large of those coming from Wilmington and Tewksbury. On October 28th, Wilmington's Craig Jamieson finished 100th overall with a time of 39:29 at the Vietnam Memorial 4-mile road race held in Lawrence.

At the Monster Dash Duathlon, 3 mile run and 14.5 bike ride, Tewksbury residents Marc Shaponic and Paul Sedgwick finished 11th and 55th with respective times of 1:23.40 and 1:45.21. At the Run for All Ages 5K in Wakefield, locals finishing the race include Tewksbury's Dave Dechellis (3rd, 16:28), Linda Jennings (44th, 21:08) and Rob Hunter (345th, 58:50) as well as Wilmington residents Simonetta Piergentilli (28th, 19:46) and Joanne Valente (219th, 30:21).

Tewksbury native Shawn Quinlan was the lone local to compete in the Race for a Cure 5K in Somerville. He came across in 26th place with a time of 27:50. At the 17th annual Battle Run in Lexington, Wilmington's Mike Martiniello finished 81st overall with a time of 25:47 for the 3.1 mile race. At the Cider Mash 5K in Amesbury, Wilmington residents Robert Cassidy and Eric Rizzo finished 101st and 115th at respective times of 28:58.5 and 29:57.5. In the same event but the one mile fun run, it was Wilmington's Richard and Alexia Engvaldsen finishing at 13:48.9 and 13:51.1 for 106th and 107th place.

Finally at the One Lucky Guy Half Marathon in Newburyport, nine locals took on the challenge of completing 13.1 miles. Those locals include from Wilmington Tricia Xavier (306th, 2:05.12.80), Jennifer Tassone (594th, 2:21.55.98), Rebecca McGrath (691st, 2:31.47.26), Lindsay Tabares (757th, 2:43.15.40), Katie Rago (774th, 2:49.59.66) and JoMarie O'Mahony (811th, 3:06.21.86) as well as Tewksbury resident Omilyh Quitongan (376th, 2:08.38.05).

Shawsheen Girls Soccer team falls in first round

Rams heading back to the playoffs

Haverhill — At halftime of last Saturday's CAC Large clash between Shawsheen Tech and Whittier Tech, the outcome of the game, as well as the CAC Large championship was very much in doubt, with the Rams holding a precarious 17-12 lead despite having dominated statistically in this contest between the two top teams in the league.

But once the second half got under way, Shawsheen showed Whittier why they are the two time defending CAC Large champions, taking complete control of the game on their way to a 37-12 blowout win and their third straight league title and third straight Division 4 playoff berth.

Shawsheen improved to 7-1 with the win, (3-0 in the CAC Large), while Whittier fell to 6-3 (2-1).

Senior running back Paul DePlacido had a game for the ages for the Rams, rushing for 310 yards and five touchdowns, while also picking off a fourth quarter pass from his defensive back position, as the Rams outgained Whittier 269-111 in the first half and 404-185 for the game.

Despite their statistical dominance the Rams found themselves in a very tight game at the half, but they dug deep to blow the game open the rest of the way.

"Whittier came to play," Shawsheen coach Al Costabile said. "They were real tough in the first half, but we battled and we grinded it out. Sometimes that is what you have to do against a good team and that's what we did."

DePlacido and the Rams gave an early indication of what was to come on their first drive of the game, going on a nine play 60-yard drive to start the game. DePlacido gained 57 of the 60 yards on the drive, including a two yard run up the middle for a touchdown that gave the Rams a 7-0 lead with 7:42 left in the first quarter after Devonn Pratt added the first of his four extra points on the day.

After holding Whittier to a three and out on their first possession the Rams went right back to work, putting together a six play, 81 yard drive capped off by a sensational 37 yard touchdown run by DePlacido, who broke at least four Wildcat tackles on his way to end zone to give the Rams a 14-0 lead with 3:07 left in the game.

Whittier fought back, however. Aided partially by a 15-yard personal foul penalty against the Rams at the start of the drive, the Wildcats went on a six play, 72-yard drive to close within 14-6 on a 14 yard touchdown run by Jaylin Deveau, with 9:43 left in the half.

Shawsheen responded on their next possession, going on a 14-play drive, holding the ball for nearly six and a half minutes. The Rams looked like they had a first and goal at one point when wide receiver Chase Rebidue appeared to make a sensational catch at the one yard line, but the officials ruled it incomplete, and Shawsheen ultimately had to settle for a 22 yard field goal by Pratt with 3:17 left in the half for a 17-6 lead.

With his seven points on the day, (four extra points and the field goal), Pratt now leads all area scorers and is second in the state with 144 points.

DePlacido ran for 152 yards in the first half alone and his five touchdowns in the game gave him 14 on the season and his 310 rushing yards put him well over 1,000, with 1,172 on the season.

Shawsheen looked to extend their lead and put a stranglehold on the game late in the half, holding Whittier to a three and out and taking over possession near midfield. But before they could even get started a fumble on their first play gave Whittier the ball back at the Shawsheen 49 yard line and the Wildcats capitalized with quarterback Connor Bradley connecting with Deveau on a 12 yard touchdown pass on a fourth down with 52 seconds left in the half to make the score 17-12 at the break.

In the locker room at halftime Costabile and his assistants challenged the Rams players to play like the champions they are, and also reminded them that they were still in a great position to win the game.

"We just told the kids to stay together and reminded them that although the end of the half was pretty rough, we still had the lead," Costabile said.

"If we just played our game I thought we would be all right."

The Rams wasted little time in taking their coaches words to heart, holding Whittier to a three and out on the opening possession of the half and then going on a methodical seven play, 52 yard touchdown drive on their first possession, with DePlacido carrying on every play of the drive.

When DePlacido scored his third touchdown of the game on a one yard run up the middle with 4:49 left in the third quarter the Rams had a 23-12 lead and were well on their way to victory.

What followed was a somewhat perplexing drive by Whittier. Taking over on their own 26 yard line, the Wildcats went on their best drive of the game, finally moving the ball against the Rams defense on a 19 play drive.

The problem was that Whittier huddled up after every play, talking nearly 30 seconds between each play, most of which were runs. So while they moved the ball down field, they also did the Rams a favor by milking the clock, chewing over nine minutes off the clock.

And when the Rams defense finally stiffened and kept the Wildcats off the scoreboard, the game was all but over when Shawsheen took over at their own 15 yard lone with 6:38 left in the game.

DePlacido erased any doubt on the first play of the ensuing drive on a sensational 85 yard run where he started to the right and then reversed field and looked like he was going down at about his 30 yard line, but instead broke tackles and tiptoed the sideline to stay in bounds before out running his defenders into the end zone for a 30-12 lead with 6:26 left in the game.

"We just ran right behind the offensive line," DePlacido said of his outstanding day. "We were confident. We knew all we had to do was follow."

Costabile agreed with his star back about the play of the offensive line, but he also felt DePlacido was not giving himself enough credit.

"We got outstanding running from Paul today," Costabile said. He sets up his blockers well and runs to the open areas. We got some good blocking, but he also did a lot on his own."

DePlacido got the job done on defense as well, intercepting a Whittier pass to set the Rams up at the Whittier 15 yard line for their final score of the game, a two yard blast up the middle for DePlacido with 3:19 left in the game.

The Rams still have two games left in the regular season, starting Saturday at Shawsheen against Northeast followed by their Thanksgiving Day matchup against Greater Lowell.

But they know they will be playing beyond that as well, with a first round playoff matchup on the Tuesday after Thanksgiving against the winner of the Catholic Central Large. The CCL championship will be decided this Saturday when St. Mary's hosts Archbishop Williams with the winner grabbing the playoff berth.

Carozza Remembered

Along with playing for the league title, the Rams had some additional motivation on their side on Saturday afternoon. The Rams dedicated the game to the memory of a great friend of the Shawsheen program.

Ralph Carozza, a Wilmington native and masonry teacher at Shawsheen who operated the scoreboard for all Shawsheen home football games died of a sudden heart attack this past week and he is fondly remembered by members of the Shawsheen family.

Many Rams players wore eye black with an 'R' under one eye and a 'C' under the other and Costabile said there was very good reason for the team's loyalty to Carozza. "Ralph was loved and respected by our coaching fraternity and athletes," Costabile said. "His love and support for Shawsheen athletics will always be cherished and will never be forgotten."

Billerica -- Overall it was a tremendous week for the Shawsheen Tech Girls Soccer team. The Lady Rams, fresh off capturing their fifth straight CAC Large championship, pair won their sixth straight Massachusetts State Vocational championship with a pair of stirring wins late last week.

Unfortunately, the week ended on a down note for the Lady Rams as their season came to an end when they suffered a 2-0 loss to Ipswich in the first round of the MIAA Division 3 North Sectional Tournament on Sunday at Shawsheen.

Shawsheen finished another remarkable season with an overall record of 18-3-1, and were undefeated in league play with a 15-0 mark in the CAC Large.

On Sunday, the third seeded Lady Rams simply came up against a bigger and better team when they took on 14th seeded Ipswich, and despite battling then throughout they were unable to pick up the win, as Ipswich scored midway through the first half to take a 1-0 lead and the score remained that way until the visitors added an insurance goal with 30 seconds left in the contest.

Shawsheen coach Doug Costabile was confident heading into the Ipswich game, but his team was unable to get anything going offensively.

"I had gone out and scouted them and I actually felt like we were the better team," Michaud said. "But when they showed up for the game, they were a lot bigger than I remembered, just physically bigger," Michaud said. "But our kids battled and we actually won a lot of the physical battles and a lot of head balls. Where we lost it was in the midfield, because we just could not get through."

Michaud switched the Lady Rams offensive alignment midway through the second half, playing with three forwards and it resulted in some more offensive zone chances for Shawsheen. Unfortunately it also led to some breakouts for Ipswich and ultimately their clinching goal against freshman goalie Janina Kennedy of Tewksbury who was outstanding all day with 17 saves.

"We put them on their heels a little bit, but we would putting on so much pressure that they were able to break out," Michaud said. "Our defense actually did a good job with it, but eventually they were able to put one in."

Michaud and his players were obviously disappointed to see their state tournament run end so soon, but if they are looking to comfort themselves in the off season, they merely need look back on their great play in the vocational tournament where they defeated Greater Lowell in a thrilling comeback victory before routing Diman.

In their first round game against CAC rival Greater Lowell, Shawsheen found themselves in a deep hole when Greater Lowell took a 3-0 lead 10 minutes into the second half, but they fought back for a dramatic comeback victory when Tewksbury's Arianna Medeiros scored the game winner nine minutes into the ten minute overtime period.

Medeiros had a chance to win the game for the Lady Rams in the opening seconds of overtime when Tewksbury's Kristen Carroll stole the ball at midfield and sent Medeiros in alone on the Gryphons goalie. Medeiros made a great move to beat the keeper, but hit the post with her shot.

Late in the overtime, this time assisted by Darien Lavino, Medeiros was given a nearly identical opportunity and this time she buried it to give her team a thrilling victory and propel them to the voke finals.

"It was the same exact play and Ari nailed it the second time," Michaud said. "It was a great win for us. The only thing that could have made it any better would have been if it was the finals."

The Shawsheen comeback began almost immediately after Greater Lowell had extended their lead to 3-0 when Wilmington junior Rachel McLaren scored in the 11th minute to make it 3-1.

In the 16th minute, Greater Lowell was called for a penalty and Shawsheen freshman Lisa Ferreri blasted home the penalty kick to bring the Lady Rams within 3-2.

Michaud had no hesitation about choosing a freshman to take the penalty kick in such a crucial situation.

"Lisa is the calmest person on the team," Michaud said. "She is so calm you sometimes don't even know she is there. And she has tremendous accuracy. She puts the ball where she needs to get it."

Shawsheen tied the score off a corner kick with 30 seconds left in regulation with sophomore Emily Irwin heading the ball into the net to set up Medeiros' overtime heroics.

In the voke finals there was no such drama, at least not in the second half, as the Lady Rams rolled to a 6-0 victory over Diman, led by four goals by Medeiros, who finished the season with 30 goals and 10 assists.

Shawsheen led just 1-0 at the half on a Medeiros goal, and Michaud knew the perfect way to urge his team to add to their lead.

"I did not have to say anything to them, except to remind them that they had not won the game yet and to remember that we had come back from 3-0 down to Greater Lowell," Michaud said. "That was all I had to say and they went out and dominated in the second half."

They most certainly did, as Medeiros added three more goals and the Lady Rams also got goals from Carroll and Kim Hayes. Janina Kennedy made 10 saves for the win.

It was the sixth straight voke championship for the Lady Rams and the fifth straight CAC Large title. While it might appear almost a given to the out-

Rams Boys Soccer team eliminated by Bedford in first round

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

BEDFORD -- The Shawsheen Tech Boys Soccer team saw their season come to a disappointing end on Saturday afternoon in the first round of the MIAA Division 2 North Sectional Tournament when the 11th seeded Rams suffered a 6-1 loss to sixth seeded Bedford.

But, the season ending loss to a superior opponent could not diminish what was an outstanding and surprising season for the Rams who finished the season 11-8-2 overall, including an 11-6-2 mark in the regular season prior to suffering losses in the State Vocational Tournament as well as the MIAA Tournament.

"Without a doubt it was a great season and the kids deserve so much credit," Shawsheen coach Dick Barriss said. "If you had told me at the beginning of the year that we would go 9-9 I would have taken that in a heartbeat, so for them to do what they did was incredible.

"These kids gave me everything they had and then some through the entire season."

Unfortunately for the Rams their best efforts were not enough in their matchup with a talented Bedford squad. The Rams battled the Buccaneers to a scoreless tie through the first 27 minutes of the game, but then the floodgates opened as Bedford scored four times in the final 13 minutes of the first half.

The Rams were playing with the wind in their faces for the first half, much as they had in a comeback win earlier this season against Lynn Tech when they dominated the second half with the wind at their backs.

With the score close for much of the first half, Barriss was hoping for a similar result against Bedford, but it was not to be after the late half explosion.

"When they scored the first one with 13 minutes left in the half, I felt like if we could keep it at 1-0 or 2-0 at the half we would be in pretty good shape," Barriss said. "But once they went up 4-0, it becomes very difficult to make any sort of comeback."

Bedford expanded its lead to 5-0 before Shawsheen freshman Scott Callahan made the score 5-1 and Bedford added a late goal for the final tally.

"They were just the better team," Barriss said. "In order for us to win we would have had to play a perfect game and hope that they made some mistakes. They deserved it more. They were a very good team."

The Rams of course were also a very good team this season, and they are hoping to be even better next season. In order to do that they will have to overcome the loss of some key seniors from this year's team, including leading scorer Brian Gallagher, Tewksbury's Jake Snook and Wilmington's Mike Biondo.

Barriss knows they will be hard to replace.

"Mike was a kid who really had to work hard at soccer. It did not come easy for him. It was only through his hard work and effort that he was able to do so well," Barriss said. "He had eight assists on the year and seven of them came off of throw-ins. That was quite a weapon for us."

Barriss also spoke very highly of Snook.

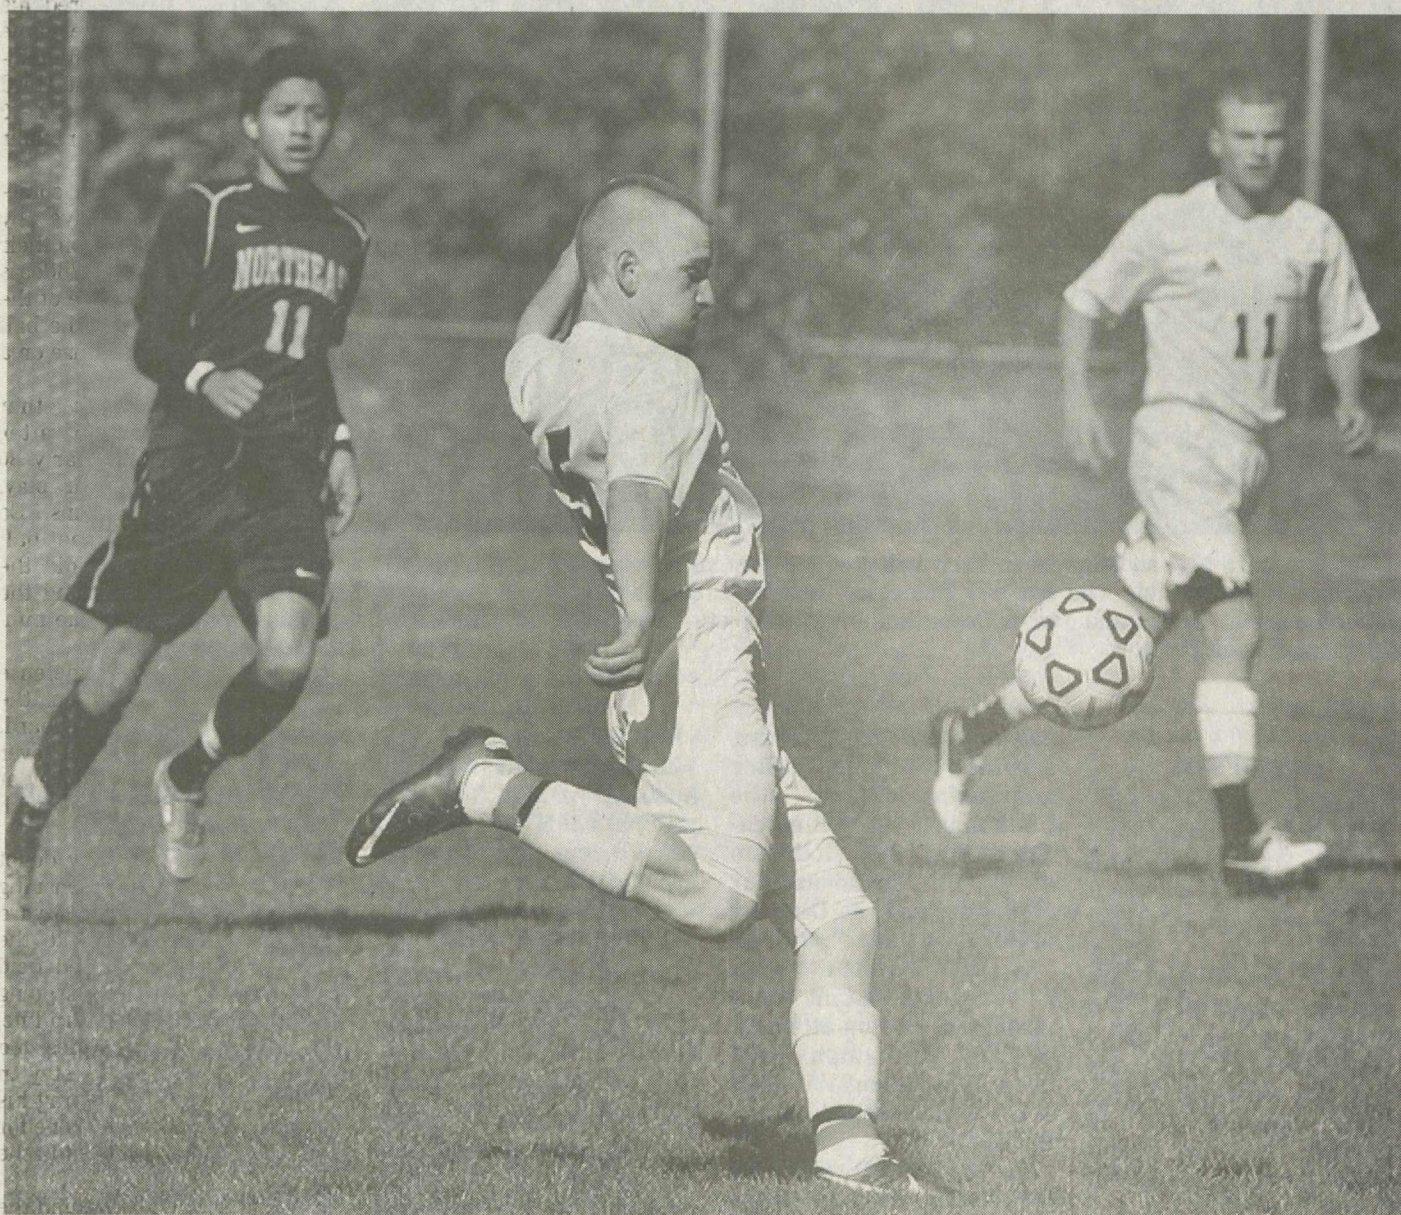

"He was an anchor for us on defense," Barriss said. "We had three unproven players back there with him and he did an unbelievable job leading them and keeping us in a lot of low scoring games."

While the Rams will certainly miss the contributions of their seniors, they will also return several key players, including T.J. Barriss and freshman goalie Brett Battaglia of Tewksbury.

"We bring three of our four fullbacks back and another three midfielders back so that is a good start," Barriss said. "Now we just have to find out who will be leaders for us, who will score goals for us and who is ready to step up."

One thing Barriss hopes he sees again next year is the total team effort he got from this year's squad. It was a group that got the absolute most out of their abilities all season long.

"I told them after the game that they were not the most talented group I have ever coached, but they still have one of the better records we have had," Barriss said. "That was all a result of their hard work and dedication. Not one player had a star attitude and they all just got along so well. They were a pleasure to coach."

Rams Volleyball team wins playoff opener

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

BILLERICA - Their biggest hurdles still lie ahead of them, but what a season it has been so far for the Shawsheen Tech volleyball team. The Lady Rams wrapped up a sensational regular season this week with an overall record of 16-2, earning them the number two seed in the MIAA Division 3 sectional tournament.

On Tuesday night in the first round of the sectional tournament the Lady Rams continued their great season with a dominant performance in a 3-0 (25-11, 25-15, 25-21) over Presentation of Mary of Methuen, propelling them into the semi-finals where they will take on third seeded Lynnfield on Thursday night at 7:00 at Shawsheen.

Despite the final score and the apparent domination by the Lady Rams, Shawsheen coach Chet Flynn felt like PMA played well, particularly in the third game when Shawsheen trailed late.

"I really felt that PMA played very well defensively," Flynn said. "There were plenty of times where we thought the ball was on the floor and all of a sudden they would make a play to save it."

In that third game, the Lady Rams had a 19-16 lead, but then saw PMA go on a run to take a 21-20 lead and still holding serve. At that point, Shawsheen caught a bit of a break when the server for PMA stepped out of bounds, returning the ball to the Lady Rams who then ran off five straight points to win the game and the match.

Shawsheen got several outstanding performances on the night, led by senior Stephanie Champoux of Tewksbury, who had nine service points and 11 kills, as well as Kelsey Davey who had ten service points and five kills.

Jess Vitale of Tewksbury also had a fine night, scoring the match winning point for the Lady Rams and playing well all night with three kills.

"Steph and Kelsey were the two down the stretch that really made things happen for us," Flynn said. "And Jess was great for us. She just seemed to come up with big plays for us."

Prior to the state tournament Shawsheen had advanced to the finals of the State Vocational Large School Tournament last week with a 3-0 (25-14, 25-13, 25-17) over Blackstone last Thursday in the semi-finals before suffering a 3-0 loss to Greater New Bedford in the finals on Friday.

The loss to Greater New Bedford was not only the Lady Rams first loss since September 25 when they fell to undefeated Notre Dame Academy, it was also the first time they had even lost a set since that defeat.

On Thursday against Lynnfield, Shawsheen will face a similar challenge to Notre Dame, as Lynnfield will bring an 18-3 record into the contest, including a 3-0 (25-2, 25-4, 25-2) win over St. Joseph in the quarterfinals.

"They are the number three seed, but they, along with Notre Dame are probably the favorites to win the tournament," Flynn said. "I have not seen them play, but from everything I have heard from people that have seen them they are a very solid, very talented team. I know we will have to play very well to win, but I think we are ready."

The Wilmington Wildcats C Team (10-0) opened their 2012 playoff run with a 28-0 quarterfinal victory on Friday over the Boston Bengals and a thrilling 14-13 defeat of the West Lynn Rams, the only team to beat Wilmington in the their last 20 games.

This puts the Wilmington Wildcat C Team in the Eastern Mass Conference Championships on Thursday night in Cambridge against the 10-0 Billerica Scouts C Team. Game time is 7:00 pm. The game will be played at Russell Field, located at 333 Rindge Avenue.

Here is a recap of this weekend's thrilling games:

Wilmington 28, South Boston 0

The Wildcats came out firing on Friday night scoring three times in the first seven minutes of the game. Running back John Kenney took a handoff on the second play from scrimmage and darted 40 yards into the end zone for a quick 6-0 lead. Kenney carried the ball six times against Boston for 80 yards and two touchdowns.

The defense took the field and stymied the Bengals on their first series. Linebacker Blake Hiltz led the Wildcats with five tackles including two tackles for loss. Defensive tackle Kyle Penney also contributed with three tackles and a fumble recovery and fellow defensive tackle Brett Chisholm had the lone sack for the Wildcat defense.

On their second offensive series, quarterback Andrew Sullivan led the team on a methodical six play drive that culminated with a 20 yard touchdown run by Kenney, his second of the day. The PAT kick by Mikey Daley was good and the Wildcats took a 14-0 lead.

After another strong defensive series that saw big plays from linebackers Joey Dumoulin and Braden Hiltz as well as defensive end Drew Brandenburg (three tackles, one tackle for loss plus one reception for 10 yards), the offense came back on the field and this time it was Kyle Penney's turn to get into the end zone as he ripped off a 15 yard run right through the middle of the Boston defense. This gave the Wildcats a 20-0 lead.

The offensive line, led by Kyle Kenyon at center, Mark Companschi and Blake Hiltz at guard and a rotation of tackles including Pat McAndrew, Tommy Strow, Colin Rooney and Kyle Bolis dominated the Boston defensive line all day.

The Wildcat offense accrued 246 rushing yards on the day and that can be attributed to awesome line blocking as well as solid perimeter blocking by slot receiver Justin Fraser and wide receiver Ryan "RB Smooth" Brewer.

The Wilmington defense closed out the half in dominant fashion. Defensive end Frankie Irizarry (three tackles) and defensive tackles Michael Smolinsky and Nolan Fitzgerald overpowered a weary Boston defensive line.

After a defensive stop to start the second half, Wilmington ate up a lot of clock in the third quarter. Timmy Rivers came in at quarterback and played solid and the backfield combination of Braden Hiltz and Pete Marino gained 33 yards on the drive that culminated with a one yard touchdown plunge from Marino to give the Wildcats a 28-0 lead.

Boston realized they had a lot of points to make up so they started trying to rush to the perimeter of the field but corner Michael Ducharme (three tackles and one tackle for loss), corner Mikey Daley and safety Timmy Rivers were solid in the Wildcat backfield.

The game ended with a 28-0 victory for the Wildcats and a date with the West Lynn Rams, the only squad to defeat the Wildcats in the last two seasons.

Wilmington 14, West Lynn 13

In a thrilling rematch of last year's Eastern Mass Championship game, The Wilmington Wildcats defeated the West Lynn Rams 14-13. This game went down to the wire and saw enough twists and turns to make any hardcore football fan sit on the edge of their seat.

Wilmington got great performances from everyone on the team as it was a true team victory. Some stand-out performances on the defensive side including linebacker Blake Hiltz (10.5 tackles, two tackles for loss), defensive tackle Kyle Penney (six tackles, two tackles for loss), and defensive end Frankie Irizarry (two tackles, one tackle for loss, one sack and one fumble recovery).

On the offensive side of the ball, running back John Kenney shouldered a big load carrying the ball 25 times for 116 yards and two touchdowns, fullback Kyle Penney gained 37 tough up the middle yards on 10 carries and quarterback Timmy Rivers came in midway through the second quarter for injured starting quarterback Andrew Sullivan to lead the offense.

The Wildcat offense took the field first and Sullivan led the team on an 11 play drive that culminated with a four yard touchdown run by Kenney, his first of the day and third in the playoffs. The offensive line; Kyle Kenyon, Mark Companschi, Blake Hiltz, Pat McAndrew and Tommy Strow were brilliant on the drive as the offense churned out 59 yards in those 11 plays. The PAT kick by Mikey Daley (a kick that would prove to be the decisive factor in the game) was good and the Wildcats took an 8-0 lead.

The defense took the field and gave up a score but managed to stop the PAT try by West Lynn to maintain an 8-6 lead. On their second offensive series, the team moved the ball consistently again, this time with great blocking from Justin Fraser and Ryan Brewer as well and Wilmington scored after seven plays when Kenney got into the end zone for his second touchdown (fourth in the playoffs) of the game. This gave the Wildcats a 14-6 lead.

West Lynn came right back and scored on a long run right up the middle to cut into Wilmington's lead. West Lynn went for one and converted so the score stood at 14-13 in the second quarter.

Then the unthinkable happened.

Quarterback Andrew Sullivan sustained an injury on the next drive and he would not return to the game. Timmy Rivers went in for Sullivan and although the team did not score in the remainder of the half, they moved the ball and chewed the clock, keeping the ball away from the potent West Lynn offense. Offensive tackles Kyle Bolis and Colin Rooney checked in and were solid in helping the Wildcat ground game.

The half ended with the score 14-13 in favor of Wilmington.

In the second half, the game became a defensive slugfest. Defensive tackles Peter Marino, Brett Chisholm, Michael Smolinsky and Nolan Fitzgerald bottled up the inside running lanes for the West Lynn offense. Linebackers Braden Hiltz and Joey Dumoulin along with corners Daley and Michael Ducharme were solid guarding the perimeter of the defense.

The teams traded possessions and nearing the end of the game with West Lynn driving defensive end

Frankie Irizarry came up with a sack and a fumble recovery to give Wilmington the ball and a chance to eat up the clock. Rivers methodically moved the team down the field and on fourth down with the Wildcats needing a first down to keep possession, Rivers through a perfect pass to tight end Drew Brandenburg whose 15 yard reception gave Wilmington the first down and the chance to run out the clock to preserve the victory.

This puts the Wilmington Wildcat C Team in the Eastern Mass Conference Championships on Wednesday night in Cambridge against the 10-0 Billerica Scouts C Team. Game time is 7:00 pm. The game will be played at Russell Field, located at 333 Rindge Avenue.

Wilmington vs Reading

The Wilmington Wildcats C Team (8-0) defeated Reading on Sunday to finish their regular season with a perfect record.

The Wildcats were a bit sluggish out of the gates going down 6-0 to Reading in the first quarter but they managed to buckle down on defense and score 20 unanswered points to complete back-to-back perfect regular seasons. The Wildcats are 17-1 in their last 18 games and they will go for win number 18 in that stretch when they take on the Boston Bengals last Thursday evening.

Wilmington won the coin toss and elected to receive. The opening drive only netted three yards in three plays for the Wildcats and the punt on 4th down was muffed. Reading took over and within six plays; they were on top 6-0. This was only the second touchdown the Wildcats have surrendered all season, outscoring opponents 190-12 for the year.

The Wildcat offense got going on their second possession. Runs of 11 and 20 yards by John Kenney (22 carries, 134 yards rushing, and two touchdowns) gave Wilmington a first down on the Reading 10 yard line. Kenney ran for six up the middle, followed by a tough two yard run into the teeth of the Reading defense by Kyle Penney (seven carries, 22 yards rushing).

On fourth-and-two, a Kenney run up the middle tied the game at 6-6. Mikey Daley kicked the two point PAT to give the Wildcats an 8-6 lead, a lead they would never relinquish. In addition to solid line blocking, Wilmington also got great blocks from slot receiver Justin Fraser and Ryan Brewer who has turned into a top-notch perimeter blocker this season.

After giving up a score, the Wildcat defense took the field and played with a renewed vigor. Defensive ends Andrew Brandenburg and Frankie Irizarry were solid for the Wildcats. Brandenburg had 2.5 tackles, a tackle-for-loss and also had a fumble recovery while Irizarry was second on the team with four tackles, including a team leading two tackles-for-loss. Linebacker Blake Hiltz led all Wildcats with 4.5 tackles on the day including one tackle-for-loss.

On the day, the Wildcats recorded six tackles in the Reading backfield and many more tackles for no gain.

Wilmington failed to score on their third offensive series and after the defense quickly shut down Reading, the Wildcat offense returned to the field for what would be their last drive of the first half. After nine yards on two carries by Kenney, quarterback Andrew Sullivan ran the quarterback sneak to perfection, picking up the first down for Wilmington and keeping the drive alive.

After three penalties on the Reading squad,

Wilmington had the ball on the half yard line and Sullivan again ran the sneak to perfection, securing the ball and getting lower than the defenders. His touchdown put the Wildcats up 14-6 at the half.

Protecting a one score lead, the Wildcat defense came out to start the second half and continued to stymie a reading offensive attack that was held to its lowest point total all season. Linebackers Braden Hiltz (two tackles) and Joey Dumoulin (three tackles) were solid for the Wildcats.

The middle of the Wilmington defensive line led by nose tackle Peter Marino (2.5 tackles), defensive tackles Kyle Kenyon (two tackles), Brett Chisholm, Nolan Fitzgerald and Michael Smolinsky.

The Wildcats took over possession and on their first series of the second half, they executed a nine play drive covering 44 yards and chewing up most of the third quarter. The drive culminated with a two yard touchdown run by Kenney, his second of the game. The score put Wilmington on top 20-6.

The offensive line blocking was solid on the drive; led by Kenyon at center, Mark Companschi and Blake Hiltz at guard and Tommy Strow and Pat McAndrew at tackle. On this drive, the Wildcats worked in Kyle Bolis and Colin Rooney at tackle as well and both did a solid job.

With a 20-6 lead, the Reading offense had to start attacking the perimeter with outside runs and passes. The Wildcat defensive backs were solid, not allowing Reading to complete a single pass. Corners Michael Ducharme and Daley combined for 3.5 big tackles and safeties Kenney and Timmy Rivers also came up with two tackles.

The Wildcat offense took the fourth quarter to work on some new plays. Sullivan completed a pass to Kenney and he also caught a pass from Braden Hiltz on a quarterback throwback. Sullivan became the first Wildcat player this year to rush for a touchdown, complete a pass throwing and haul in a reception in the same game.

Late in the game, Hiltz and Marino came in at running back and fullback and churned out 21 yards on the final six plays to secure the victory for the Wildcats.

Wilmington resident Graham Smith did very well in the Punt, Pass and Kick competition. (courtesy photo).

Smith does very well in Punt, Pass and Kick competition

Wilmington Pop Warner is having a very successful season. Their cheerleading teams are competing at the Regional level and their Jr. Midget and PeeWee football teams are still competing in playoffs.

On top of this excitement there is one young member of the Jr. Midget team that earned not only the honor of participating in the NFL Punt Pass and Kick competition byt being the front runner of his age bracket at the Local and Sectional level. His name is Graham Smith and he is 13 years old.

Graham has been playing football in Wilmington Pop Warner since he was seven years old. He has had success at every level of play and now is on the Jr. Midget team. He is a linebacker and averages 15 tackles a game. He is also a running back and has scored two-three touchdowns per game. He also has the ability to throw the ball in specially designed plays that have helped his team make it to playoffs.

The Punt Pass and Kick competition is open to all boys and girls ages 6-15. It is designed specifically for physical education and to better teach the fundamentals of punting, passing and kicking a football, as well as the teamwork needed to successfully play sports. There are four levels of competition; local competitions that took place this summer to the end of September; Sectional competitions held in October or early November; Team Championships are held during November and December and the NFL Punt Pass and Kick National Finals held in January at a Divisional Playoff game. Each participant must compete at their local competition. The top score from each age bracket has the opportunity to move onto Sectionals. Once at Sectionals, the scoring starts new, but once again, only the top scores from each bracket are allowed to move onto the Team Championships. The scores for each category are based on both distance and accuracy. A participant's final score is his/her cumulative total for the three events.

Graham did score the highest in his age bracket at the Local level. He moved onto and participated at the Sectional competition where he scored 269 out of 300 and earned the right to compete at the Team Championship. This is an honor and a momentous occasion for this young man.

Graham is an outstanding young athlete and an outstanding young man. He is committed and devoted to being the best he can be in every event he participates in. A few weeks back, Graham fractured his hip during a game. He unfortunately will not be able to participate at the Team Championship for the Punt Pass and Kick Competition. He is unable to play with his team at the playoff level.

As Graham stands on the sideline watching his teammates and ponders what would have been at the Punt Pass and Kick Competition, we, his fans watch him with pride and ponder what more we will see from this young man. We know that his future will be bright and spectacular and that we will always be on his sideline cheering him on.

Congratulations Graham for giving us a glimpse of what is to come.

Pop Warner E team closes out season with a win

The Wilmington E Pop Warner team closed up its 2012 season recently with an impressive 20-6 victory against a well-coached Reading squad. The Wildcats had an impressive day on offense getting numerous players involved in the offense that gained them positive yards.

The Cats struck first led by quarterback Evan Vitalisz who sustained another 90-yard drive before he snuck into the end zone on a QB sneak for his first score of the day.

During the drive Evan got some help from RB's, Bill Doumlin, Adam Leblanc, Josh Brandenburg, Jacob Roque, Derek Maguire and Ryan Santini. Key blocks on the drive that lead to a score came from Jack Rooney, Will Kenyon, Hugh Murphy, Aaron Danciewicz, Tyler Cardello, Tim Pearson, Dylan Timmons, Gavin Erickson, and Keegan Gray.

Reading took the field only to run into a fired up Wildcat defense who shut them down early, key tackles were made by Joe McCauley, Mason Glover, Brady Robbins, Casey Robbins, Ryan Watson, Jenadre Able, Diondre Turner, Ryan Santini, Andre Turner and Derek Maguire.

The Wildcats continued its offensive dominance and showed a new offense that we have never seen before. The Young E team broke out a hurry up offense led by QB Josh Brandenburg who sustained a 60-yard drive, running backs Joe Kullman, Derek Maguire punished the Reading Defense and got the ball to the 40 yard line. This is where Bill Doumlin took over and broke free for a 40 yard touchdown run. The offensive unit was led by Jeandre Abel, Dominic Biarrio, Luca Callahan, Mike Lee, Aiden MacLeod, Ryan LaRoche, Ryan Watson and Dylan Timmons.

Reading came out on the next drive making a statement and started to move the ball up the field for the only score of the day making the score 12-6. After that Reading score, wildcat's defense calmed down and did not let Reading advance the ball the rest of the day, key tackles during the defensive stands were made by, Joe Kullman, Gavin Erickson, William Kenyon, Casey Robbins, Ryan Nuzzolo and Jacob Roque. Andre Turner went off on defense having a team high of 10 tackles and made a diving tackle on a Reading RB which stopped them from getting into the end zone.

Wilmington's offense marched back on the field and was led by Mason Glover with a quick 25 yard gain and then followed was some hard nose running by Josh Brandenburg, Adam Leblanc, Andre Turner, Ryan Santini, Joe McCauley. This led to a Tyler Cardello 8-yard touchdown run bringing the score to 18-6.

This where the big foot of Gavin Erickson kicked the extra point right down the middle of the uprights giving the Cats a 20-6 victory over Reading!

Red Cats Hockey team nets ten goals in a tie

The Tewksbury/Wilmington Red Cats Girls U-12 team faced off against The New Hampshire Lady Monarchs in an exciting game recently at Hockey Town in Saugus that ended in a 10-10 tie.

Julia Ryan led the way for the Red Cats offensively with 5 goals, many in impressive fashion. Goalie Cora Barrett was a standout making big saves at critical moments to keep her team in the game.

She was helped by stout the defense of Lauren Pichette, Carolyn Curley and Melanie and Peyton Fuller all of whom fought to clear rebounds and move the puck out of the zone in the face of a potent offensive attack by the Monarchs.

Emily Hayden also had a big day offensively with a hat trick with assists from Madeline Courtney and Meredith Chase. Erin Carter also scored a nifty goal for the Red Cats, as did Payton Fuller who took a great pass from Madison Sjostedt and snapped it in the short side drawing cheers from the crowd.

Aliana Sampson and Jocelyn Palmer also both played strong games, winning battles for the puck and moving the play through center ice with some nice passing.

The Red Cats came within a couple of inches of winning when the puck squirted through the Monarch crease and trickled just wide as time expired.

The Red Cats are improving with every game and everyone is looking forward to the rest of the season. The combined Tewksbury/Wilmington girls hockey program is in its inaugural season and includes three teams at the GU 10, GU 12 and GU 18 levels.

Mite 2's continue to put on a great show

The Wilmington Mite 2 Wildcats came into this past Saturday's competition against the Reading Mite 2 Rockets looking to put on a good show. The contest was back and forth with exciting play on both ends.

Wilmington's defensive core was led by defensive captain, Kevin Ackerly, who was joined by Drew Regan, Mick Keogan, and Thomas Dalton. The forwards were led by forward captain, Chris Patterson. He teamed up with fellow forwards Gabby Daniels, Brett Ebert, Phil Murray, Jack Anderson, Chris Viscione, and Jake Perry. In net for this contest was Katelin Hally.

Right off the opening face off, Katelin Hally was tested on a breakaway by the Rockets. The Reading forward came in from the right wing and put a hard shot on net. Hally, moving well in the crease, came over and made the save to keep the game scoreless.

Later in the same period defenseman Drew Reagan stood tall by breaking up a 2 on 1 by the Rockets and sending the puck up the ice. Later in the first period with Reading leading 1-0, forward Jack Anderson passed the puck over to a streaking Chris Viscione who put a laser past the Reading goalie from the left wing side to tie the game.

Right after this Reading came back with a vengeance but was turned away by the strong goaltending of Katelin Hally once again. Also during this flurry of action defenseman Thomas Dalton and Kevin Ackerly turned away three follow up shots in a row, not letting a puck get to the goaltender.

Then just before the end of the period forward Jake Perry displayed tenacity by following up on a shot by Wilmington. Heading to the net, Perry picked up a rebound and put it in the back of the net giving Wilmington it's first lead of the game, 2-1.

In the second period, it was all back and forth. Forward Gabby Daniels came on strong with consistent forechecking that caused Reading fits in the defensive and neutral zones. This led to several breakaways by the speedy Daniels.

Later in this period, the defensive core was called on once again to stem the tide, as Mick Keogan continually challenged the Reading forwards, not allowing them many clean shots. As the period wore on forward, Brett Ebert, made an exceptional play at the Wilmington blue line, breaking up a clear odd man rush and sending the puck back up ice. Katelin Hally continued to stay strong in net making many diving, acrobatic saves. Late in the second period center, Phil Murray won a key faceoff in the offensive zone allowing the Wildcats to put a great shot on net that was just barely turned away.

Near the end of the period, forward Gabby Daniels forced the Reading Rockets into a penalty by her hard skating approach to the game. This led to good solid offensive shots on the powerplay by Jack Anderson, Chris Viscione, Chris Patterson, and Jake Perry.

The third period continued the back and forth action of the game with forward captain, Chris Patterson, displaying leadership with some hard working play along the boards in the neutral zone that led to some offensive chances.

The contest ended with Wilmington coming out on the short side of the game. But, the Wildcats of Wilmington's Mite 2 team were rewarded with plenty of sweaty heads and smiles!

Squirt 3's double up on Newton

The Wilmington Squirt 3 team faced off against a powerful Newton squad that had previously beat them 6-1 in the parity round, but this time the 'Cats came away with a 2-1 victory.

Focus on skating and puck control was the theme of this game, as Wilmington, coming off a dreadful loss in their previous game, vowed to put forth a better effort.

The first period started with Newton dominating the early play. Goalie Chase Perault kept Wilmington in it with some saves that set the tone for the game. The reunited defense pairing of Jake Chirichiello and Anthony Savage helped clear the front of the net so Perault could get a clear view of any shots. Liam Prigmore and Justin Healey were the other defensive pairing that helped protect the early Newton onslaught. Newton did strike first as Perault was partially screened in front and puck found its way through a crowd and into the back of the net. The first period ended with Newton leading 1-0.

The Wilmington squad started to take over the momentum in the second period as forwards Brendon George, Brendan Kelly and Brady Robbins really picked up the skating and consistently beat Newton to the puck. The crowd could sense the tide was turning when the next line of Jeb Bazile, Will Allworth and Colin Gates continued to play puck control hockey and frustrated Newton in to committing several turnovers.

The defining moment came when Allworth skated hard after a Newton defenseman, in the neutral zone, causing him to panic and cough up the puck. Allworth cruised in on a partial breakaway and buried the puck on the left corner of the net.

The Newton team was stunned, and Wilmington could sense that if they continued to skate and play strong on the puck, they could pull off the upset. Second period ended 1-1.

Wilmington took over in the third causing Newton to commit silly penalties. George's strong skating started to wear down Newton. Kelley was playing smart along the boards and Robbins kept hustling to break up plays in the neutral zone. Healy continued to pinch in from the point and really became the smooth skating puck carrying defenseman Wilmington was looking for. Prigmore was a perfect compliment staying back to break up any Newton rushes.

Allworth, Bazile, and Gates used their size to match up with the mammoth defense of Newton, surprising them with skilled fore-checking. Brendon George buried the go ahead goal after strong work from Healey, Prigmore, Kelley and Robbins to keep the puck in.

With Wilmington leading 2-1, Chirichiello and Savage showed their calm smart play by protecting Perault and the front of the net. Perault was called upon to make some last minute stops as Newton pulled their goalie for the final few minutes. The game ended in favor of Wilmington 2-1, proving that hard work can beat talent any given Sunday.

Squirt I's face off against Lowell in a tough battle

The Wilmington Youth Hockey Association Squirt 1 team skated into Janas Arena in Lowell to face Groton on Saturday morning.

Sam Cedrone was back in net, with a short bench making for a busy day for the skaters. Brendan Ardito and Jimmy McCarron started on defense, backed up by Matt Miller and Joseph Hansen. Andrew Gallucci took the opening faceoff, with Anthony Bowker and Matt Pendenza on the wings. Coming off the bench were Zachary Kincaid at center, with Joseph Hartzell and Derek Gallucci on the wings. Kincaid kicked off the scoring with a strong rush up the middle and a sharp finish for the goal halfway through the first period. The officials were calling a tight game, and the Wildcats spent parts of each period short-handed. Early in the second, the Cats had two players in the penalty box when Groton was whistled for a penalty and the teams skated 4-on-3 for the next minute. Just after the all of the penalties were over and the teams were back to five skaters, Groton scored to tie the game at one.

The Wilmington penalty killers were pressed back into service again late in the second, and Joseph Hartzell and Derek Gallucci were an effective shorthanded combination at forward.

In the third period, too many opportunities on the power play finally allowed Groton to take the lead with five minutes remaining. The Wildcats pressured for several good looks at scoring an equalizer, but the clock ran out for the tough loss.

Mite 1's take edge out Reading, 4-3

The Wilmington Mite 1's had a busy two weeks against the best the Valley League has to offer.

On October 28th, they had an exciting battle against an undefeated Reading team, and the Cats won 4-3. It was a nail biting, back and forth game, and great effort by all. Center Matt Ardito shot in a short-handed goal early, and Jack Farrell grabbed a puck, shot and missed, but retrieved his own rebound to give the Cats a two goal lead.

Defensemen Ryan Dusablon and Nick Ackerman engaged in many puck battles and did a great job patrolling the blue line. Forwards Tristan DiMeco and Aydan Churchill continued digging for pucks in the corners. Reading shot in a short-handed goal, closing the gap to 2-1. Gannon Ricci sped his way into the zone and fired off a shot but was denied. Goalie Liam Crowley stopped a breakaway. Cameron Gagnon made several stops at the blue line, keeping plays in the offensive zone.

Reading then tied it. Ella Cedrone made a nice pick in the neutral zone. Ardito took the puck coast to coast off the face off, weaving thru the Reading defense, goal! The smiling Crowley dove and flew all around the crease, covered pucks, denied a wrap-around attempt, and made a baseball stab at a high flying puck.

Reading tied it up again. Gagnon chased and stopped a breakaway shot. Defenseman Drew Regan, playing up from the Mite 2's, was very effective at keeping the puck in the Reading zone and aggressively chasing Reading players down. With seconds left Ricci got control and fed the puck up to Farrell who fired in the winning goal top shelf! Big win!

The following game was a tough battle against a strong Winchester Mite 1 team that ended in a 3-3 tie. The Cats had their hands full from the drop of the puck as Winchester sustained pressure in the Cat end for almost three minutes. However, the story of much of the day was the strong defense played by Gannon Ricci, Keegan Gray, Tristan DiMeco and Ryan Dusablon. Winchester struck first on a shot that goalie, and co-captain of the day, Liam Crowley almost stopped but it ping ponged around off skates in front. Regardless, Crowley was unfazed. He turned away multiple shots throughout the period.

Forwards Ella Cedrone and Aydan Churchill worked hard in the neutral zone. Co-Captain Nick Ackerman played tough in traffic and along the boards. Winchester struck again with 2:36 to go in the second. But the Cats don't quit. Gray stopped a breakaway. DiMeco made a great play keeping the puck in, Matt Ardito then won the battle for the puck down low and fed an awesome pass to Cameron Gagnon who wristed one by the Winchester goalie.

Michael Daniels almost tied it shortly thereafter after stealing the puck in the neutral zone and firing a hard shot that the goalie stopped.

The defense and Crowley shut down numerous rushes and scrums in front, giving the Cats a chance to keep the game close. Daniels won another puck battle, and fed Jack Farrell who was off to the races. He gained the offensive zone, dipped right, pulled left and unleashed fury over the left shoulder of the Winchester net minder, tie score! Winchester attacked and kept pouring on shots which Crowley kept turning away. Regrettably, one stopped shot rubber ball bounced up over him and Winchester pulled ahead.

But the Cats again rallied with around a minute to go, and snapped a tie from the jaws of defeat, when Matt Ardito tied it up late assisted to keep the Cats undefeated.

Mite 3's keep up great team work play

On Sunday November 4th, the Wilmington Mite 3's traveled to Kasabuski Arena in Saugus to take on the S&S Mite A Team.

With Kayla Flynn in net, the first line started the game off strong with Michael Sullivan scoring off a rebounded shot from Jordan Legere. About a minute later S&S got themselves on the board slipping one by Flynn on a breakaway.

The rest of the period saw Wilmington keeping the puck in the S&S end, and the defense of Ryan Hayden, Owen Mitchell, James Caples and Brian Barry playing very well. Even with all the pressure the period ended in a 1-1 tie.

The second period stated off much like the first. Just a few minutes in Sullivan took the puck from center ice and scored on a breakaway. Flynn then had a few big saves to keep S&S from getting another goal. Caples found the back of the net about four minutes in on an assist from Jimmy Keck. Moments later Mitchell and Jacob Smith dug the puck out of the corner and centered it. Ryan Murray took the pass and scored. Wilmington won the next face off and skated down to the S&S end. Charlie Chirichiello passed to Sullivan who took a shot that bounced off the goalie. Legere followed the rebound in and slid the puck in to end the period 5-1.

S&S added to their tally, just a minute into the third period. Both teams skated, hard and the Wilmington defense kept the puck out of their end. Just under halfway through the period, Legere took a pass from Sullivan that added to the Wildcat lead. The second line came onto the ice and further extended the lead. Keck took a pass from Jacob Smith, skated in from the wing and shot it. The puck bounced back at him and he took a chip shot that found the back of the net above the goalie's shoulder.

Legere capped the scoring and earned himself a hat-trick wrapping the puck around the net and sliding it under the goalie's pads.

North Reading to fingerprint solicitors Laws governing would-be peddlers vary

BY RYAN LAROCHE

Anyone who wants to solicit in North Reading - that is to go door-to-door selling magazines, books, etc., drive a taxicab, drive an ice cream truck, operate a pawn shop or otherwise go about selling goods around town - put your hands up. Those hands will now be fingerprinted to determine if you have a criminal record, thanks to a new by-law passing last month at Town Meeting.

The fingerprinting by-law now allows for North Reading Police to do an extensive criminal background check on any person(s) attempting to solicit in the town. This new by-law is uncommon in Massachusetts as approximately 15 or so communities currently employ such a strategy for dealing with these types of vendors, said North Reading Police Chief Michael Murphy.

Gov. Deval Patrick signed a bill into law back in 2010 that allows cities and towns to conduct these civil fingerprint background checks.

The chief noted that many people come up from southern states like North Carolina and Florida during the summer and prior to the passing of the fingerprint by-law, the town did not have the authority to check the records.

While other communities around North Reading ask that any applicant of a vendor/solicitor license detail any criminal history over the past five to seven years, none specifically fingerprint the proposed solicitor. Whether the new by-law in North Reading keeps residents safer from criminals purporting to be solicitors remains to be seen.

For most communities in Massachusetts, and especially those in the Middlesex East readership area, obtaining a solicitor's license can be a detailed process with many rules and regulations to follow.

Under Article 8 of the town's by-laws it defines soliciting as "seeking to obtain the purchase, or orders for the purchase of goods, wares, merchandise, foodstuffs, or services of any kind, character or description whatever for any kind of consideration whatsoever; or seeking to obtain subscriptions to books, magazines, periodicals, newspapers and every other type of publication."

The above provisions, it should be noted, do not apply to state or federal officials, employees of the town, neighborhood youth and students who solicit for shoveling snow, cutting lawn or similar services, or route salespersons with established customers for periodic deliveries.

Others who receive exemption are those selling for religious, charitable or political purposes.

Solicitors must obtain a Certificate of Registration from the Chief of Police, which includes an application fee that is determined by the Board of Selectmen.

The application is very detailed and includes the name, address and phone number of the organization attempting to solicit, plus a listing of all officers and directors and the tax identification number.

For each solicitor, they must include their name, address (both residential and business), length of residence at the residential address, phone number, social security number, and date of birth. A description of the subject of the soliciting must be included, as well.

Each license is valid for one year. Each solicitor must include on the application the most recent previous application for a certificate and any previous revocation of a certificate by any city or town.

Though the Town of Reading does not fingerprint, the application does ask that each solicitor include any convictions or imprisonment for a felony, either state or federal, within five years of the application, by the organization, any officer or director, or solicitor in town.

Reading also asks each applicant to include the name of three communities where the organization has solicited most recently, along with the hours, dates and methods of operation.

Lastly, each application must contain a signature from an authorized representative of the organization and a photo ID of each potential solicitor.

The by-law states that the town will not issue a certificate if the solicitor or any officer or director of the organization has been convicted of a crime in the past five years nor if a certificate has been previously revoked either in Reading or another community.

Once approved, each solicitor must wear a photo ID badge at all times and to display it when asked. Even if approved, the Chief of Police can revoke the certificate for good cause, which includes conviction of a crime or a false statement such as misrepresenting the true nature of solicitation to gain admission into a home, office or other establishment.

Each solicitor is expected to show their ID, conduct their business peacefully, and leave if asked.

Movie Reviews

by Paul Feely

"Wreck-It Ralph" witty, exciting and funny

"WRECK-IT RALPH" is Disney's newest animated feature, and it is smart, sassy and adorable. It will appeal to youngsters, adults and anyone who has spent years playing video games.

"WRECK-IT RALPH"
GRADE: ***

Ralph (John C. Reilly) is tired of being overshadowed by Fix-It Felix (Jack McBrayer), the "good guy" star of their game who always gets to save the day. But after decades doing the same thing and seeing all the glory go to Felix, Ralph decides he's tired of playing the role of a bad guy.

No wonder, then, that "Wreck-It Ralph" opens with our bad-guy protagonist at a support group meeting for video-game baddies, complaining how he is sick of being unloved.

Unlike the others in his group, though, Ralph decides to be proactive, and thus begins the saga of a good "bad" character who underneath yearns to be a hero. "Wreck-It Ralph" is Disney's newest animated feature, and it is smart, sassy and adorable. It will appeal to youngsters, gamers and those who spent years in arcades playing Pac-Man or other video games.

The movie's most inspired idea is that the characters in the video games are real, that their roles are their jobs and that when the arcade closes, they return home and have lives.

In Ralph's case, though, home is the dump next to the apartment building where he spends his night among the discarded bricks and other items that have accumulated from his decades of wreckage.

The turning point for Ralph is his exclusion from a party the other characters in his game throw to celebrate its 30th anniversary.

After attending a meeting of Bad-Anon, a support group for video game villains such as the ax-wielding zombie from "House of the Dead" and dictator M. Bison from "Street Fighter II," Ralph realizes he can only find happiness by "game jumping." But it's a risky proposition because characters don't re-animate once they've left their own world. If killed...they stay dead.

"Wreck-It Ralph" builds on a premise that explores whether folks are condemned to be victims of their own circumstances. The storyline makes clever use of nostalgia, bringing in Q*bert-worthy references for those who spent much of the '80s playing classic arcade machines.

Ralph bolts, deciding that he wants to be a hero and that the only way to do that is to earn a medal.

So, Ralph sneaks into another game, "Hero's Duty," where he sneaks off with the game-winning prize.

From there, he winds up in a racing game called "Sugar Rush," where he finally learns the true meaning not only of heroism but also of friendship with Vanellope von Schweetz, whose world is threatened when Ralph accidentally unleashes a deadly enemy that threatens the entire arcade.

"Wreck-It Ralph" is a delightful and colorful excursion, heightened by the vocal talent of Reilly as Ralph, with support from Silverman, Lynch, Alan Tudyk and Jack McBrayer.

The movie's retro sensibilities will appeal to adults, while the colorful games and characters, as well as the simplicity of the story, will hold the attention of young viewers.

"Wreck-It Ralph" is witty, exciting and funny. It's definitely a movie anyone with a home video game setup can relate to and enjoy.

"CLOUD ATLAS"
GRADE: **

Extremely ambitious, 'Cloud Atlas' feels like about a dozen movies rolled into one.

Cloud Atlas explores how the actions and consequences of individual lives impact one another throughout the past, the present and the future. Action, mystery and romance weave dramatically through the story as one soul is shaped from a killer into a hero and a single act of kindness ripples across centuries to inspire a revolution in the distant future. Each member of the ensemble appears in multiple roles as the stories move through time.

This uneven but visually stunning adaptation of David Mitchell's novel was directed by a trio of acclaimed filmmakers, including siblings Andy and Lana Wachowski (The Matrix) and Tom Tykwer (Run Lola Run).

It's an epic that mixes genres and big ideas, dealing with concepts such as evolution, reincarnation, quantum physics and the cosmic order of the universe. Those sorts of aspirations come with a price tag, but at least the film compensates by becoming both provocative and entertaining.

The movie cuts between more than a half-dozen storylines, ranging in setting from the mid-19th century to a vision of the future circa the year 2350. There are certain thematic links that are present throughout the film, and oddly enough, so are the same actors.

Tom Hanks, Halle Berry, Jim Broadbent, Jim Sturgess, Hugo Weaving, Susan Sarandon and Hugh Grant are among those who employ a variety of prosthetics and accents to portray different characters, both good and evil, who appear either throughout the film or might pop up only briefly with or without explanation.

Cloud Atlas is episodic by nature, with some sections more compelling than others (a recurring post-apocalyptic segment featuring Hanks and Berry babbling almost in tongues could have been shortened). There are moments of wicked humor, shocking violence and dazzling special effects as the film blends

FINALLY? (SOUTH STONEHAM ON THE WINCHESTER LINE)

Town Meeting ... rezoned Fallon Road to allow for residential uses, paving the way for Wilmington's The Richmond Company to build up to 300 apartment units on the former A.W. Chesterton site," notes the "Stoneham Independent."

"In a unanimous vote, the assembly sanctioned the zoning change for the 16-acre site at 225 Fallon Rd., owned by Wilmington's The Richmond Company, as well as for another commercial property across the street.

er commercial property across the street.

"In total, up to 410 apartments can be built on the two parcels, located in South Stoneham on the Winchester line near I-93 and Park and Marble Streets.

"According to local attorney Charles Houghton, representing The Richmond Company, in exchange for the town's support of the zoning change, his client has agreed to abandon a special permit issued by the town's Planning Board in 2007 for a Home Depot store.

"A state law enacted a few years ago, and since renewed by the state Legislature, technically kept that special permit in place, even though the commercial real-estate company announced in the fall of 2007 that the big box retailer no longer had any desire to build there...

"The potential for a big box store goes away the minute a building permit is pulled for the project that is contemplated by this rezoning," Planning Board Chairman August Niewenhous later reiterated.

"To limit neighborhood impacts to residential abutters in Winchester and along Park and Marble Streets, Houghton's client has agreed to build only one and two-bedroom apartments, which will likely draw smaller families.

"None of those buildings will be built within 100 feet of the Winchester line, and the structures will not stand higher than 65-feet..."

FLOORED (TEWKSBURY WILMINGTON)

"Floorcraft, a Wilmington company, has purchased an industrial building in Tewksbury on Baker Street for $1,625,000," note the Wilmington/Tewksbury editions of the "Town Crier."

"Floorcraft, which was founded in 1987 and has existed in Wilmington for the duration of its existence, stated that this move will increase their area and provide more opportunities for business and growth. Floorcraft will more than double its square feet with the move, increasing from 8000 square feet in their current location in Wilmington to 17,500 feet in Tewksbury..."

"The move is scheduled for early 2013. However, Floorcraft's owners expect it to take slightly longer to move into the building, as specific renovations and repairs are needed in order to make the building fit Floorcraft's specific needs...

"... The property, located at 19 Barker Road in Tewksbury, was sold by Flautco Realty Trust.

"This sale stays in line with Tewksbury's recent economic and industrial growth, as a variety of businesses have been relocating or setting up in Tewksbury because of its rewarding business climate and excellent location..."

ORCHARD & GARDENS (BURLINGTON)

"The Brickpoint Properties' hearing regarding several applications that would see the construction of garden apartments off of Peach Orchard Road was continued without testimony during the ... Planning Board meeting," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The proposed project includes 60 garden style apartments, which would be situated in structures that are 2-stories high, with an access road from a newly constructed right-of-way on property located on Peach Orchard Road. The units would be a mix of studios, one bedroom and two bedroom units..."

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY

TRIVIA: In 1984 who became the first Quarterback in NFL history to pass for more than 5,000 yards in a single season?

Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

JUNIOR F RACHEL MCCARTHY (READING, MASS.) scored in the 53rd minute to lift No. 3 UMass Lowell over No. 2 Bentley, 1-0, in the Northeast-10 Conference Tournament semifinal at Merrimack College's Warrior Field.

Bentley, which had won seven straight matches entering the semifinal, slipped to 11-7 overall.

McCarthy scored the game-winner when she possessed with her back to the goal, spun to her left and shot through the defense into the left side of the cage. The goal was McCarthy's 25th of the season.

McCarthy nearly opened the scoring two minutes earlier when she let loose only to be denied by the post.

UMass Lowell outshot Bentley 24-5 overall (8-3 on target), built a 15-3 edge on penalty corners and enjoyed the run of play for significant stretches. The Falcons, however, did have chances.

In the 62nd minute, sophomore F Gina Lorange broke through UMass Lowell's backline, but junior GK Melanie Hopkins (Harwich, Mass.) read the play well and came off her line to snuff the attempt before Lorange could muster an attempt.

Hopkins also did well in the final seconds to deny an attempt by Bentley freshman F Sally James.

Hopkins stopped three shots and earned her eighth shutout of the season while

Athletes & Activities

by Paul Feely

senior GK Julia Powell had seven saves.

UMass Lowell has won seven NE-10 Tournament titles, including 2003-07, 2010 and 2011, the latter at Merrimack (3-2).

SENIOR F STEVEN WHITNEY (READING) scored the lone goal and senior G Parker Milner made it stand as No. 1 Boston College defeated No. 10/11 UMass Lowell, 1-0, in front of 6,003 in a Hockey East clash at the Tsongas Center.

The win was the third straight for the Eagles, who improved to 3-1-0 overall and 3-1-0 in Hockey East.

Milner, who earned first star honors, recorded his second straight shutout as he turned away 38 shots from UMass Lowell. The River Hawks outshot the Eagles, 38-20.

Boston College also did well to kill off four UMass Lowell power plays. UMass Lowell stayed away from the penalty box all night for the fourth time in its Division I history. The last time was against Providence Jan. 12, 2008 in a 3-2 overtime win at home.

Whitney scored the winner 3 minutes, 17 seconds into the third period when senior F Pat Mullane drove up center ice and flicked to sophomore Johnny Gaudreau on the left side. Gaudreau centered to Whitney, who one-timed glove side past junior G Doug Carr (Hanover, Mass.).

UMass Lowell had several attempts to level, and nearly did so in the final seconds when junior F Josh Holmstrom (Colorado Spring, Colo.) attempted a wrist shot, the rebound of which just eluded the stick of JUNIOR F JOE PENDENZA (WILMINGTON, MASS.) and trickled through the left side of the crease before it was cleared.

The loss overshadowed a stellar effort by Carr, who stopped 19 shots, including 11 in the second period.

•The No. 8 Merrimack field hockey team exploded for two goals and 20 shots in the second half, and despite a late goal by the visitors, the Warriors would hold on to down Bentley University, 3-2, in the NCAA First Round at Martone-Mejail Field, clinching the program's second consecutive trip to the Final Four.

Improving to 17-3 overall by means of the win, the Warriors will now match up against a familiar foe in Final Four host and the NE-10 Champion UMass-Lowell River Hawks, while the Falcons see their season end at 11-8 overall.

Bentley took the initial lead with a goal at 20:35, but the Warriors would reel off three uncontested strikes to move ahead, 3-1, between the end of the first half and the midway point of the second half. The visitors would cut the deficit to one with just less than five minutes to play, but Merrimack would hold on from there on out to punch their ticket back to the national semifinals.

"It's a great day for the program and a very sound win over a very, very good Bentley team," head coach Anne Rounce said afterward. "It's an honor to make it back to the Final Four for the second straight year, and we'll set our sights toward a strong week of practice to gear up for another tough match against UMass-Lowell."

After Bentley controlled

most of the first half before eventually taking the lead, Merrimack promptly regained most of the match's momentum from there on out, as the Warriors finished with a 27-12 advantage in shot attempts and a 20-3 edge in shots in the second half alone.

Seniors April Daugherty (Wakefield, R.I.) and Jen Otis (Penacook, N.H.) would light up the scoreboard for the home side, while junior Jessica Otis (Pittsford, N.Y.) notched the game-winner with 13 minutes to go in regulation.

Senior goalkeeper Kerri Bergquist (Mashpee, Mass.), meanwhile, was stellar in net despite giving up the two tough goals. She finished with five saves compared to seven for her counterpart Julia Powell. If not for a few heroic maneuvers by Bergquist in the first half - including an aggressive move to break up a potential breakaway - the Falcons could have at the least been bidding to send the game to overtime.

After a near-miss by Meghan Talerman, who fanned on an open net earlier in the half, the Falcons got on the board at 20:35, as Beth Maguire put the visitors on the board on her 10th marker of the season. Sally James sent a pass up through the middle to Maguire, who cut through the circle and scored on the left side of the cage to make it 1-0 with 15 minutes to play in the stanza.

But the Warriors responded eight minutes later, as Daugherty and junior Candace Waldie (North Andover, Mass.) connected on a tremendous play. Jen Otis started the play with a pass at midfield up to Waldie. The nation's leading scorer directed a long send upward towards Daugherty, and the program's all-time leading scorer put together one of her most impressive scoring opportunities of the season.

Daugherty maneuvered through the left side of the circle, prompting Powell to leave her line to attempt to break up a potential breakaway. Daugherty calmly dribbled around the keeper and another defender and slid a backhanded shot that somehow found the right-back corner of an open cage, tying the game at 1-1 at 28:08.

That tie would hold through the remainder of the first half and nearly 10 minutes into the second before Jen Otis gave the Warriors a lead they would never relinquish. The Penacook, N.H., native came up with a rebound after an initial shot by classmate JAMIE SPANO (READING, MASS.) was saved, but Otis promptly ripped a bullet off Powell's pads and into the black to put Merrimack up, 2-1, at 44:25.

Maguire would draw the Falcons to within 3-2 after scoring on a rebound following an initial scrum in front of Bergquist, but that goal proved to be too little, too late, as the Warriors celebrated in front of a supportive crowd to cap off Homecoming weekend with the team's 17th victory of the season.

Peddlers from S-1

Article XIII, Section 1.16 of the by-laws in Burlington states that no one can solicit "or display, sell, or distribute articles or merchandise upon a street or public place unless licensed by the Board of Selectmen."

Woburn

In Title 5 under Business and License Regulations under the Municipal Code of the City Ordinances, it states that "no person shall go place to place in the city selling goods, wares or merchandise or establish a transient business (any exhibition and sale of goods, wares or merchandise which is carried on in any tent, booth, building or other structure, unless such place is open for business during usual business hours for a period of at least 12 consecutive months), unless licensed by the Director of Standards of the Commonwealth and/or licensed by the city except for those articles permitted to be sold without a license under Mass. General Law, Chapter 101, Section 16 and 17."

The above regulations don't apply to those selling second-hand goods at a yard sale or garage sale provided sale does not exceed two days or a not-for-profit organization (though they must notify the city clerk's office of their intent and have a badge displaying the name of the organization benefiting from the sale visible).

Anyone with a state license cannot solicit until he or she has recorded his or her name, residence, phone number and a brief description of the business to be conducted with the city clerk's office and provided a copy of his or her state license.

For everyone else, the City Clerk will grant licenses to US citizens with approval from the Chief of Police. Like in Reading, all applicants must fill out an application that includes their name, the type of license sought (either transient vendor or hawk/peddler), a signature, home address, name and address of the owner or parties in whose name the business is to be conducted, their business address and phone number, cell phone numbers for both the applicant and business, description of the business, applicant's social security number, description/registration of any motor vehicles used, sales tax number, and, whether the applicant has ever been charged with a felony.

There is a $100 licensing fee. Each license lasts one year. All food sellers must get approval from the Board of Health.

Once a license is granted, certain guidelines apply. No solicitor can disturb the peace or injure or otherwise disturb the public's health. He or she can only stay 15 minutes to sell goods on public lands (streets, parking lots, parks, playgrounds) and can't sell between 8 p.m. and 6 a.m..

Transient vendors may not sell on public land, only at fixed locations on private commercial property (with permission and if the property is zoned for solicitation). Transient vendors must also post prices of goods for sale.

Any violations will run the solicitor $150 for the first offense and $200 for each subsequent offense.

It should be noted that for transient vendors, the guidelines do not apply to sellers at the Farmers Market at Spence Farm.

For taxi drivers, each person must be at least 18-years old, licensed to drive in Massachusetts and have no criminal record over the last seven years. A license will be granted by the City Council (the city, though, only allows for 28 licenses to be granted).

With most local Town Meetings either over or being conducted soon, it appears that a fingerprint by-law will only exist in North Reading. However, should the by-law prove successful at keeping residents safe from potential criminals, perhaps other communities will adopt similar measures.

Reading's Farris and Moscariello Personal Best presents Mental Toughness Training

READING - Personal Best presents its highly touted course, Mental Toughness Training for Peak Performance for baseball/softball players and their parents, this fall. Veteran Reading High School Baseball Coaches Pete Moscariello and Scott Farris have been recognized nationally as top mental toughness / peak performance trainers and have conducted over 100 successful workshops for college and high school athletic teams, parents, drama clubs, dance studios, school faculties, administrators, and students of all ages. Our program is designed to help players and parents to increase your chance for success in athletics, school, work, and home life.

What is Mental Toughness and Why Do We Need It? Simply stated, Mental Toughness is the ability to perform at peak levels regardless of the circumstance and conditions. When coaches and athletes are asked what percentage of baseball/softball is "mental", typical responses range from 75% to 95%. Yet, most athletes spend less than 10% of their training time on the mental game! Baseball/Softball players need Mental Toughness because our sport is hard and presents players with frequent adversity. Personal Best will teach players how to develop a present moment focus, a positive mindset, a healthy perspective, a focus on process over outcome, and specific pre-pitch routines - all essential skills for peak performance and success. Our instructors will teach athletes how to build mental toughness into your daily routine on and off the field. You will learn strategies and terminology that will lock you into focus and the present moment, with a positive mentality. Dedication to daily mental toughness programs have brought success to top college baseball/softball programs such as Alabama, TCU, UCLA, and Vanderbilt, and to professional players, including Evan Longoria, Bryce Harper, and David Price. Participants are guaranteed to enjoy the upbeat atmosphere and positive energy created by the instructors. Each class member will be an active participant in the sessions, as instructors will use live demonstration and videotape to enhance learning. The goal of the course is to have ballplayers and parents learn positive and healthy life skills that you can immediately apply to athletics and any area of your lives. In the class, you will learn how to: Increase confidence Perform at peak performance levels more frequently Stay relaxed and use breathing techniques in pressure situations Perform in the present moment Develop a positive mindset Use visualization techniques Use positive self-talk Respond to adversity Develop a healthy perspective Focus on the process rather than results Set and accomplish goals Use specific pre-pitch routines TO REGISTER: Contact Scott Farris at 781 640-8572 or sfarris@personalbestmtt.com Visit our website: www.personalbestmtt.com Follow us on Twitter: @PersonalBest4 Personal Best Instructors Pete Moscariello •Head Baseball Coach at Reading (MA) High School for 34 years; over 500 wins, .733 winning pct. •13 league championships; 1 state championship

What is primary mortgage insurance?

Primary mortgage insurance, or PMI, protects lenders in the event that borrowers default on their primary mortgage by ceasing to make payments, resulting in homes ending up in foreclosure.

But all borrowers do not have to pay PMI. Typically, home buyers must make a 20 percent down payment on a home when they buy it. However, some borrowers are unable to put down 20 percent. In such instances, the lender will require they pay PMI. This is because the lender views a borrower who cannot make an initial 20 percent down payment as a riskier investment, and lenders charge PMI in an effort to protect themselves should the borrower prove worthy of their skepticism.

PMI will be factored into the monthly mortgage payment, but borrowers should know they do not have to continue paying PMI once they have paid enough toward the principal amount of the loan. For most, this means once they have paid 20 percent of the principal, then they can ask that the monthly PMI payment be removed.

Many borrowers are unaware of this or even forget to ask, but it's within their rights as borrowers and can save a substantial amount of money over the course of the mortgage loan.
